SAYS IT IS TIME FOR PROGRESSIVE FORCES OF NATION TO UNITE

"Genuine Humane, Just and Progressive Legislation" to be Had Only from Democrats.

PRESIDENT WILSON SPEAKS

Addresses Delegation of Independents, Headed by Amos Pinchot and Rabbi Wise.

WILL CAMPAIGN N. Y. STATE

Say Forces of Privilege Have Marked Wilson for Slaughter.

Long Branch, N. J., October 16.

—President Wilson today told a delegation of independents, comprising the Wilson Volunteers, that the Democratic party is the only instrumentality now at hand for the enactment of "genuine humane, just and progressive legislation."

The members of the delegation came here to tell the President they planned to campaign for him "from the Battery to Buffalo," in New York state, because they felt he had given the Nation "a square deal." The delegation was led by Amos Pinchot and Rabbi Stephen Wise, of New York, and remained with the President longer than an hour.

The President declared the time has come for America to "unite her progressive forces."

Want Only Three Things.

He said the leaders of the opposition want only three things, "the scalp of the present Comptroller of the Currency," John Skelton Williams; to get control of the banking system of the country; and to put the army and navy of the United States back of their financial enterprises in Mexico and throughout the world.

The delegation, for which Amos Pinchot acted as spokesman, presented a resolution asserting that Charles E. Hughes had accepted the "open support of German-Americans." Mr. Pinchot told the President they believed "the forces of privilege had marked him for slaughter."

Rabbi Wise praised the President's conduct of the foreign affairs of the Nation, mentioning Mexico and the Panama tolls controversy. He declared a new era in international affairs had been opened by the President's treatment of Mexico.

"The election of Governor Hughes would mean a country divided against itself," said Rabbi Wise. "It would mean a permanently hyphenated America. We are not supporting you as Democrats but as Americans.

Progressives Should Unite.

"The problem that America has had to face for some time," said the President, "has been to unite and organize her progressive forces. They have been present in the Nation for a long time but not until four years ago, did they disclose their numerical forces."

Dissecting the presidential vote of 1912, which he called "striking," the President said that of the more than 15,000,000 votes cast, 10,000,000 were cast for the progressive candidates and programmes of the campaign, representing by the Progressive and Democratic parties. Of the remaining 5,000,000 votes, only 3,500,000 were cast for the Republican candidate, "a most extraordinary manifestation of the desire of the people of the United States to move forward along new and constructive lines in respect of their public policy."

He said that for a long time the progressive element had been the dominating one of the Democratic party and the election four years ago showed the strength of that element in the Republican ranks as given by the Progressive party vote.

Williams' Scalp Wanted.

The President then referred to the men who, he said, "want the scalp of the present Comptroller of the Currency," who, for the first time in many years, has obliged the banks to obey the banking laws. The same group, he said, wanted to get control of the new banking system and to put the army and navy back of their financial enterprises in Mexico and throughout the world. Continuing, he said:

"I want to say in passing with regard to this three and a half millions of my fellow countrymen, that I do not believe them to be in the plot. I believe them to have been misled by ancient pre-possessions, by old prejudices, by inveterate habits of voting from which they have been unable to break away. But the purpose of their leaders is patent to every one who has studied the annals of recent legislation of this country. Here then we strike the essence of the campaign.

The Essence of the Campaign.

"An instrumentality of enlightened legislation genuinely democratic in spirit is, if their suggestions are accepted, to be replaced by men who have no public object except the objects of spoliation. Can any one won-

MINORITY WOULD ELIMINATE 'OBEY'

But All Proposed Changes in Marriage Ceremony Are Referred Back to Commission.

BY THE HOUSE OF DEPUTIES

Proposed Changes in Catechism and Institution of Clergymen Also Referred Back—Episcopal General Convention at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 16.—Elimination of the word "obey" in the marriage service was recommended in a minority report of the joint commission on common prayer submitted to the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal General Convention here today.

The house of deputies referred back to the commission all proposed changes in the marriage ceremony, in the catechism, and in the institution of clergymen, and these questions cannot come before the General Convention again for three years.

The minority report recommended that the present injunction beginning "Wilt thou obey him and serve him" be changed to "Wilt thou love him, comfort him, honor and keep him, in sickness and in health; and forsaking all others, keep thee only unto him so long as ye shall live."

The minority report suggested also the omission of the words "and with all my worldly goods I thee endow" in the service. An argument advanced was that the expression "endow" is a relic of old English law, under which the dower rights of women were guaranteed and that today the question involved is a civil one to be taken for granted. It also was proposed to expunge the expression "as Isaac and Rebecca lived faithfully together," etc., and merely say "living faithfully together."

Many regard the reference to those Biblical personages as out of date, and declare that there is no reason why Isaac and his wife should be regarded as models, when there were many other husband and wives equally faithful.

Changes suggested in the majority report included shortening the Ten Commandments as read in the communion service and the elimination of a specific prayer for Jews and Turks.

Pension System Seems Assured.

Establishment of a pension system for Protestant Episcopal clergymen seems assured, the Right Rev. William Lawrence, bishop of Massachusetts, announced at a joint session of the two houses of the convention.

Bishop Lawrence said two-thirds of the proposed $5,000,000 reserve fund for a pension system for the clergy had been given in cash or pledged.

The bishop added that he believed that every clergyman retiring after March 1, 1917, would be assured of a pension and that the widows and orphans of the clergy would benefit from this fund.

FIND NO PALLIATION NOR EXCUSE FOR ACT

Bowen-Colthrust Condemned for Putting Skefferington to Death.

Commission Appointed to Inquire Into Shooting of Man During Irish Rebellion Makes Its Report on the Affair.

London, Oct. 16.—The commission appointed to inquire into the shooting of F. Sheeny Skeffington during the rebellion in Ireland last spring, has reported there was no ground for complaints against the action of Lieutenant Morris, who caused Skeffington to be detained and sent to the barracks. The action of Captain Bowen-Colthrust, who took Skeffington from the barracks into the street as a hostage, is described as "remarkable, almost meaningless."

None of the evidence secured by it, the committee reports, afforded any justification for the shooting of the boy, Conde.

The commission found also that Captain Gowen-Colthrust added to the documents found on Skeffington's body, in an endeavor to excuse his action, a document entitled "secret orders to the military," which the commission found was a forgery from beginning to end.

Apart from the defense of insanity, the commissioners state:

"There can be no excuse nor palliation for Captain Bowen-Colthrust's conduct from first to last."

In addition to F. Sheehy Skeffington, Fred McIntyre and Thomas Dickson were put to death at the orders of Captain Bowen-Colthurst. The captain later was court martialed and found guilty, but declared insane.

RUMANIANS CLAIM TO HAVE ADVANCED

Berlin and Vienna Merely Announce Continuation of Fighting in Transylvania.

HARD FIGHTING IN GALICIA

Several Small Successes Made by Austro-Germans in Carpathians—British Advance on Macedonian Front—No Change in West.

While both the Vienna and Berlin war offices announced merely continuation of the fighting on the Transylvania front between the Austro-German forces and the Rumanians, the Rumanian army headquarters reports that in the Alt river region the troops of King Ferdinand have occupied several positions held by the Teutonic allies. On all the other sectors of this front, according to Bucharest, attacks were repulsed by the Rumanians, except in the Burzen valley, where the Rumanians were compelled to withdraw slightly farther south.

Hard fighting is going on from the west of Lutsk, through Galicia to the Carpathian mountains. In Volhynia, despite fierce attacks by both sides, there seemingly is a stalemate. Petrograd reports that neither the Austro-Germans nor the Russians have been able to gain an advantage in Galicia, where battles have taken place along the Tarnopol-Krasne railway east of Lemberg and to the north of Stanislau.

Several small successes for the Austro-Germans have been attained in the Carpathian mountains.

The big guns of both sides on the Somme front in France did the greater part of the work Monday. To the south of the river, however, a small wood between Genermont and Ablaincourt and 110 prisoners and three guns fell into the hands of the French. A violent counter attack by the Germans east of Berny-En-Santerre was repulsed by the French.

On the Macedonian front the British troops have reached the village of Bursuk, eight miles southwest of Demir-Hissar. Along the Cerna river and north of Nidje mountain, forces of the Entente Allied troops attacked the Teutonic allies but were repulsed.

The provisional government of Greece, formed on the island of Crete, has been formally recognized by the Entente powers.

EXPLOSION ON ITALIAN BATTLESHIP IS REPORTED

Berlin, Oct. 16, (via wireless).—The Az Est reports that an explosion occurred on the Italian battleship Regina Margherita while she was in port at Spezia, Italy, says the Overseas News Agency.

The Italian battleship Regina Margherita displaces 13,250 tons and is 426.5 feet long and 78 feet wide. She has a complement of 810 men.

Her sister ship, the Benedetto Brin, was damaged by an explosion in September, 1916. Several hundred of her crew, including Rear Admiral DeCarvin, were killed.

There is also a subvention merchant cruiser of the Italian fleet named Regina Margherita which has a displacement of 3,577 tons.

SAYS DEMOCRATS WILL ELECT 10 CONGRESSMEN

Walter Murphy Says Britt is Sure to be Defeated.

Salisbury Man Says a Number of Republican Counties are Going Democratic This Time—Republican Voters Changing

(Special Star Telegram).

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—Walter Murphy, of Salisbury, former speaker of the House and one of the most popular men in the Democratic party, told The Star correspondent today that the Democrats would elect ten Democratic congressmen and increase their majorities in every congressional district Mr. Britt, Mr. Murphy says, is sure to be defeated. He has been in nearly every congressional district and has first hand information.

Mr. Murphy thinks the people of the Tenth will not return Mr. Britt to Congress. Britt voted against the Revenue bill which eliminated the stamp tax, provided for the income tax and other items which lift the burden from the poor man and distribute the tax among the larger number of people.

"You can say for me," said Mr. Murphy at the Raleigh Hotel today, "that the Democrats will elect ten congressmen in North Carolina and that the Democratic majorities will be increased all along the line. I have been in almost every district in the State during the past thirty days and in most of them have made campaign speeches. I get my information from the folks who do the voting, and I believe I am con-

AMBASSADOR AND MRS. GERARD ON VISIT HOME FROM BERLIN

DEMOCRATS OF BLADEN PULL OFF GREAT RALLY

Enthusiastic Crowd Hears Messrs. Morrison and Godwin.

Court House at Elizabethtown Packed to Capacity Following Parade Headed by J. A. Brown, Sheriff Clark and Speakers.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Elizabethtown, N. C., Oct. 16.—One of the biggest and most successful political rallies had here in many years was pulled off today by the Democrats. There was a large and enthusiastic crowd present, and when the speaking came on the court house was packed to its full capacity. The Lumberton brass band furnished excellent music. About 10:30 Sheriff J. M. Clark, with Hon. Cameron Morrison, Hon. H. L. Godwin and Hon. J. A. Brown, headed an imposing parade just preceding the speaking.

Upon assembling in the court house, Bayard Clark, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee, announced that he had invited Hon. J. A. Brown, chairman of the committee of Columbus county, to preside over the meeting and turned over to him the chairmanship. Mr. Brown led off in one of the strongest 10-minute speeches ever heard in the county.

Mr. E. F. McCulloch was then called on and presented Hon. H. L. Godwin. McCaskill has done Godwin no harm, as the Congressman exceeded himself as he recounted in proud manner to the large audience the great achievements of the Democratic administration.

Upon the conclusion of Mr. Godwin's address, Mr. T. A. Lyon, former Bladen boy, now a member of the Fayetteville bar, was called on and in most happy manner presented Hon. Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte.

The setting was good and Morrison himself never made a better speech than to the hosts of Bladen today. In the last election the Bladen Democrats were not wide-awake, but today Morrison thoroughly aroused them by his powerful speech.

After presenting the strong case of the party in an able and forceful manner, he made a most eloquent and impressive appeal to Republicans and those of doubtful faith to come back under the great old banner.

Masterly in the presentation of both State and National matters, his speech, earnest, humorous and convincing, will live long in the minds of Bladen people. It has been characterized on all sides as a vote getter.

SAYS CITY OFFICIALS WERE COGNIZANT OF VICIOUS RESORTS

Minister Testifies in Chicago—Mayor Thompson Today.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Rev. Myron E. Adams, pastor of the Night church and a member of a voluntary vice investigating committee, testified with William P. O'Brien, suspended police captain, today, that Chief of Police Healy and other city officials were cognizant of vicious resorts in the district in which O'Brien was in command. Mayor Thompson, whose testimony is expected to be the climax of the hearing on State's Attorney Hoyn's application for a warrant for Healy's arrest, is expected to take the stand tomorrow.

Much of the day was occupied with description of the revelries in numerous cafes that had sprung up in the territory south of the former segregated district inhabited by a large percentage of negroes.

Galveston, Texas, Oct. 16.—Middling cotton sold here today for 17.30, thirty points higher than Saturday's close. It was the highest price paid for cotton here in recent years.

MISSILE HURLED INTO THE DRY SPECIAL TRAIN

Hostility Shown Toward Prohibition Candidates in Indiana.

Broken Glass From Crashed Car Window Showered Over Ira Landrith. "He Ought to Die" Yells Man in Greensburg.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 16.—A missile, probably a stone, hurled violently by an unidentified man, crashed against the rear window of the Dry special train observation car, just outside Fort Wayne, Ind., tonight, showering broken glass over Ira Landrith, prohibition vice presidential candidate, and other members of the party, but injuring no one. For a time it was believed that the train had been fired upon.

Landrith and Mrs. Oliver W. Stewart, of Chicago, and Judge Frank E. Herrick, of Wheaton, Ill., thought they heard a report of a gun and the hole left in the window appeared as if it might have been made by a bullet. Finding of a stone on the observation platform later, and failure to find a bullet caused the shooting theory to be virtually abandoned.

An official report made to Wabash Railroad officials at Montpelier, Ohio, said that either a stone or a bullet had struck the train. Investigation was begun.

Earlier in the day, at Greensburg, Ind., a man had yelled from the crowd that Landrith "ought to die." At Fort Wayne Landrith saw several men peering at him through the window of his compartment and one of them said, "There he is now." He was undecided tonight whether to accept the stone theory. J. Frank Hanly, the presidential nominee, who was in a drawing room of the observation car when it was struck, was convinced that only a stone had been hurled.

No other untoward incident marred the day. Hanly, speaking in the state where he formerly was a Republican governor, was warmly received. He devoted the day chiefly to defending himself for leaving the Republican party when it refused to adopt a dry national plank. He also continued to assail Fairbanks and Marshall for their liquor question records.

UNRESTRICTED SUBMARINE WAR MUST BEGIN IMMEDIATELY.

Insistence of "Independent Committee for German Peace."

Berlin, Oct. 16, (via London)—A largely attended meeting of the "Independent Committee for German Peace," one of the organizations conducting an agitation for a ruthless submarine war, was held here yesterday. Deputy Fuhrmann, national liberal leader in the Prussian diet, acted as chairman.

According to the Tageblatt's report, the meeting insisted that an unrestricted submarine war must and should begi immediately. Count von Reventlow, editorial writer on the Tages Zeitung, who was one of the prominent speakers, added Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary of the interior, to the list of "undesirables." He declared that Dr. Helfferich was more dangerous than the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg.

SHIPPING IS WARNED.

Against Hurricane Moving Across the Gulf of Mexico.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Shipping was warned again today by the Weather Bureau against a hurricane moving across the Gulf of Mexico. This disturbance was central tonight off the northwest coast of the Yucatan Peninsula with a wind velocity of 74 miles an hour. The storm continues to move in a northwesterly direction.

LIEUTENANT PETERSON MADE RAID ON ENGLAND

Was Commander of One of the Two Zeppelins Destroyed

It Was He Who a Year Ago Gave to the Associated Press an Extended Account of Visits to London and Coast Towns.

Berlin, Oct. 16, via London, Oct. 17.—The commander of the Zeppelin L-32, one of two destroyed in the raid on England September 25, was Lieut. Werner Peterson, who in September, 1915, gave to the Associated Press an extended account of the repeated visit of German airships to the British capital and coast towns.

The L-53, according to the official statement issued by the British government, was finally destroyed by an aeroplane after passing through terrific gunfire. All the officers and men perished. The second airship was hit by gunfire from the London defenses and was forced to descend in Essex because of loss of gas. It was there blown up. In his statement to the Associated Press in September, 1915, Lieutenant Peterson declared that he attached importance, in respect to defense measures against dirigibles, only to artillery fire supported by searchlights. As to attacks by aeroplanes mentioned a number of times in press dispatches, the German commander relegated these to the realm of fables. He said he had not known of an attack of this kind in any of the raids on England, nor had he ever seen a hostile aeroplane in any of his various excursions thither.

WESTERN RAILROAD SHOPMEN PREPARE AN ULTIMATUM.

Demand Eight-Hour Day and Wage Increase of 3 Cents an Hour.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 16.—A wage increase of three cents an hour and a demand for the 8-hour day throughout the six allied crafts of railroad shopmen of 17 Western railroads was agreed upon at a conference of the shopmen here today. The crafts prepared an ultimatum outlining their demands which will be presented immediately to the railroads interested.

The findings of today's conference were the result of a recent meeting here when the demands of the draftsmen were refused by the railroads.

The railroads declared their willingness at that time to allow the 8-hour day for all stationary work, but declared a 9-hour schedule was necessary for repairs on rolling stock which take the men out on the line.

ONE OF THE ASSASSINS OF ARCHDUKE FERDINAND DEAD

Nedjo Kerovic Dies in Military Prison Says Report.

Berlin, Oct. 16, (by Wireless)—Nedjo Kerovic, one of the conspirators in the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir apparent to the Austrian throne, in 1914, has died in a military prison, says a report from Sarajevo, Bosnia, given out by the Overseas News Agency.

Three of the conspirators in the assassination of the Archduke were executed in February, 1915, and Jakov Zilovic and Nedjo Kerovic were sentenced to imprisonment for life, but it was later commuted to 20 years. Gaviro Prinzip, the actual assassin, was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 16.—Spot cotton sold on the Memphis cotton exchange today on the basis of 17.12 cents a pound for middling, an advance of 12 points over Saturday's close.

TO GIVE CARRANZA SUFFICIENT TIME

American Commissioners Would Allow Him to Test Efficiency of Latest Expedition.

GEN. BLISS APPEARS AGAIN

New Assurances of Renewed Campaign Against Villa Are Given by Arredondo to Commission at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 16.—Major General Bliss, assistant chief of staff of the United States Army, appeared today again before the American members of the Mexican-American joint commission. Later it was intimated that the discussion by the joint commission of the various schemes for border control would not be forced by the Americans until a sufficient time had elapsed for General Carranza to show the efficiency of his latest punitive expedition.

New assurances as to the renewed campaign against Villa were given the commissioners today by Ambassador Designate Arredondo, through Luis Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican commission. Mr. Cabrera said his government would begin at once an "intensive" campaign against Villa.

SAYS VILLA HAS 800 ARMED SOLDIERS; 1,000 IMPRESSED MEN

Chihuahua City, Mex., Oct. 16.—Villa is in the neighborhood of Temosachic with about 800 armed and equipped soldiers and a thousand impressed recruits of all ages, who lack arms, ammunition and mounts, General Trevino stated today. He said that Villa is not paying his men and is holding them through fear. Secret agents report that Villa is organizing an expedition to recover military supplies that had been cached in the Sierras.

Denial was made by General Trevino of the report circulated in El Paso that Villa with 4,000 men had seized the southern section of the Mexico-Northwestern Railroad and was running its trains and is complete control of the territory northwest of San Antonio.

CARRANZA SOLDIERS MEET REVERSE AT BANDIT'S HANDS

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 16.—Passengers arriving at Juarez today from Chihuahua said a report was current there that a force of a thousand Carranza soldiers left their base at Santa Ysbel Saturday to operate against Villa, only to meet a serious reverse at the hands of the bandits on the road to San Andres.

Arrivals here over the Mexico-Northwestern Railway say Villa's men are in possession of Namiquipa.

REGION RAIDED BY VILLA NOW IS CLEAR OF BANDITS

Chihuahua City, Mex., Oct. 16.—Cusihuiriachic, which Villa raided on September 26, now is entirely free from bandits, according to a report received by General Trevino today from the commander of the Carranza garrison at Santa Ysabel. The commander reported all quiet in this region and said Villa has not made any threatening movements of late.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN SLAIN AS WELL AS MEN IN MASSACRE

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 16.—Villa's attack on Cusihuiriachic is described by survivors in an article printed by El Democrata, of Chihuahua, reaching here today, as accompanied by horrors almost without parallel in the history of the recent revolution.

Women and children fell as well as men in the massacre, and the survivors told of the case of a woman who, because she had nursed the wounds of General Garsia, was said to have been shot and wounded and with her infant child was soaked with petroleum and burned to death.

"We are informed," says the paper, "that the people in the section are frightened to such an extent that they do not sleep in their houses, but seek refuge in the woods or the interior of mines."

Copies also reached El Paso of a printed appeal for aid from the charity society of Zacatecas. Verifying the stories of disease and starvation there, the appeal said typhus and insanitation caused 2,000 deaths in the last four months.

It declared that owing to typhus the fields were not cultivated and there would be no crops, while corn is beyond the means of the poor.

AMERICAN CAVALRY COLUMNS ACTIVE ABOUT COLONIA DUBLAN

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 16.—American cavalry columns are patrolling south, east and west of Colonia Dublan, field headquarters of the punitive expedition, according to advices brought to the border tonight. The Americans are reported to have established an outpost 20 miles south of Al Valle for the purpose of preventing surprise attacks on small American detachments by Villa bandits reported several days ago as being in the vicinity of Namiquipa.

Other reliable reports state that General Pershing has ordere a re-alignment of his present lines.

LARGE TROOP MOVEMENTS IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST VILLA

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 16.—Arrivals from Mexico report large troop movements out of Chihuahua City in the campaign against Villa, whose partisans are said to be in control of Namiquipa, which was held by the American punitive expedition until its lines were shortened during the rainy season.

A former follower of the bandit Zalazar, just released from the penitentiary at Chihuahua City, said here today that the execution of Villa sympa-

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS

Marine Corps Cup Won By Preussner

ONE OF MOST IMPORTANT TROPHIES CONTESTED FOR AT NATIONAL RIFLE MATCHES. OTHER EVENTS.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 16.—The marine corps cup, one of the most important trophies contested for in the United States, was won here today at the National Rifle Matches by Capt. D. A. Preussner, first Iowa infantry, who scored 196 points out of a possible 200, defeating 519 competitors. Sergeant Durchdenwald, first Iowa infantry, was second, scoring 194 points, and Sergeant Andrews, U. S. M. C., third, with 193 points. Besides the cup, Captain Preussner received a gold medal and cash prize.

The rapid fire match, the only other event, was won by Color Sergeant Houck, third Indiana infantry, who scored 94 points out of a possible 100. He received a gold medal and cash. Lieutenant Garland, third Indiana infantry, was second with 92 points, and Paul Gillespie, Iowa civilian team, third with 91 points.

What is said to be a new world's record was established on the range today when Lieutenant Braden, West Virginia National Guard, scored 53 consecutive bulls eyes at 600 yards in a souvenir medal match conducted by the National Rifle Association.

There was continuous firing without the usual midday intermission today. Meals were served to the troops working in the target butts. Tomorrow the President's match for the individual military championship of the United States and the famous Wimbledon cup match will be fired.

AMERICAN-SCANDINAVIAN GAMES WITNESSED BY 12,000 PEOPLE.

Stockholm, via London, Oct. 16.—Twelve thousand people today witnessed the games in which a group of star American athletes competed against representatives of the Scandinavian countries. The principal event was the 1,000-meters run in which Zander and Bolin, Swedes, equalled the world's record of two minutes, 31.2 seconds, finishing abreast, well ahead of Ted Meredith, former American quarter-mile champion. Meredith's time was 1:38.7.

Bob Simpson, an American sprinter, won the 110-meter hurdles in 14.8 seconds, which surpasses the Olympic record by one-fifth of a second.

The American team won the relay race.

ATLANTA SEES ITS FIRST GRAND CIRCUIT RACING.

Atlanta, Oct. 16.—With ideal weather conditions prevailing, Atlanta saw it conditions prevailing, Atlanta saw its track was fast and the races drew a good crowd for the events, two were in the pacing class and one trotting. Each was won in straight heats. In only one were more than three horses entered.

In the first, 2:08 pace for a purse of $1,000, Goldie G., black gelding, piloted by Valentine, maintained the lead through each of the first three heats, making respectively 2:10, 2:08 1-4 and 2:05 3-4. His record is 2:04 1-4.

DR. HARRY VARNER TO WHIP VIRGINIA ELEVEN INTO LINE

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 16.—Dr. Harry Varner, head coach of the Virginia football eleven last year, who was credited with turning out one of the greatest football machines in the history of the university, has returned here to assist Head Coach Evans in whipping the 'varsity into shape for the annual game with the University of Georgia on Lambeth field next Saturday.

Bob McWhorter, former Georgia star, also has joined the coach staff. He is a law student at Virginia.

Hot Springs, Va., Oct. 16.—The fifth annual tournament of the Hot Springs tennis club, in men's and women's singles, doubles and mixed doubles, started today. The first two rounds in men's and women's singles were played when rain interfered. The feature match was between Mrs. Robert Leroy and Miss M. H. Taylor, of New York. Mrs. Leroy won the first set readily, while the second was won by Miss Taylor, through her volleying and steadiness. Mrs. LeRoy won in the final set.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 16.—Percy D. Haughton today assumed full charge as head coach of the Harvard football team. During Haughton's work as president of the Boston National League baseball club, Leo Leary has directed the squad.

TWO NEGROES HANGED AND BURNED ON BRUSH HEAP

Paducah, Ky., Saloons Closed and Extra Officers Patrol Streets.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 16.—An extra large force of peace officers patrolled the streets here tonight and all saloons were closed, from the lynching of two negroes today, one of whom was charged with having attacked a white woman. Further outbreaks were feared.

En route, the mob captured Jesse the jail where Brock Kenley was held, having been arrested as a result of an attack on a woman who lives in the suburbs of Paducah. It took the crowd seven hours to batter down the jail doors and summon a foundryman to cut the steel bars of Kenley's cell. A crowd of several thousand persons, many of them in automobiles, then marched for two miles to the home of the woman who identified him.

En route th emob captured Jesse Thornhill, another negro, who was alleged to have lauded Kenley's deed. Thornhill was lynched first, a rope being tied around his neck and the other end thrown over a tree limb and attached to an automobile which hauled him clear of the ground. Kenly was put to death in the same manner and both bodies were then burned on a large brush heap.

Official War Statements

FRENCH.

Paris, via London, October 16. — The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"There was great reciprocal artillery activity along the entire Somme front.

"To the north we consolidated ourselves in the captured portion of Sailly-Saillisel, despite a lively enemy bombardment. To the south we repulsed a violent counter attack east of Berny-En-Santerre. We captured a small wood with two guns of 210 millimetres and one of 77 millimetres, between Genermont and Ablain Court.

"During these actions we took 110 prisoners, including four officers.

"In the sector of Lassigny a German aeroplane, hit by our artillery, fell in flames in the German lines. On the remainder of the front nothing of importance occurred.

"Eastern Army—Nothing of importance has been reported."

GERMAN

Berlin, Oct. 16.—The official statement of today in reference to the western front reads:

'Army group of Prince Rupprecht In the fighting area on the Somme lively artillery activity on both sides continued throughout the entirely day.

"A British attack made northeast of Gueudecourt penetrated our first line trenches over a small portion of the front. This ground was completely re-captured by means of a counter attack.

"The French made an attack during the morning and evening, on our positions west of Sailly. They were driven back to the south of the village by a fresh counter attack.

"Army group of the German Crown Prince: In the Argonne and on both banks of the Meuse artillery fire was revived at times."

BRITISH.

London, October 16. — The official communication from British headquarters in France, issued tonight, says:

"It is confirmed that the losses incurred by teh enemy in last night's attacks upon our positions at Schwaben redoubt were exceedingly heavy. Sixty-eight prisoners, including one officer, were left in our hands. Our losses were very slight.

"In the neighborhood of Neuville-St. Vaast our heavy artillery and trench mortars carried out an organized bombardment on the enemy's lines. Good results seemed to be ordered.

"Much successful work was carried out by our aeroplanes yesterday in conjunction with our artillery.

"One hostile battery position was completely destroyed and many others were severely damaged. Bombs were dropped on an enemy railway station, and upon transports moving behind the enemy's lines with excellent effect."

YOUNG AMERICAN AVIATOR LOSES HIS LIFE IN FRANCE

Cross of Honor Pinned on Norman Prince on His Death Bed.

Paris, Oct. 16.—The Cross of the Legion of Honor was pinned on the breast of Norman Prince, the young American aviator, as he lay on his death bed in the hospital at Gerardmer, in the Vosges. Prince had taken part in a great aerial raid, which had been followed by a stirring fight in the air between the Entente allied aeroplanes and German machines. He suffered injuries to the head, which apparently were the direct cause of his death.

Though wounded during the aerial duel the American pilot kept his gun going, warding off hostile craft which had ascended to attack the French bombarding squadron. He remained in the air, cooly facing the fire of the German machine guns. Finally in attempting to land, he struck an aerial cable, the mishaps, it is thought, being due to the injuries that he had received in the fight. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and died apparently without suffering.

Comrades of the Franco-American aviation corps, accompanied by several French pilots, arrived at the Gerardmer hospital this afternoon to make arrangements for the funeral. Charles Prince, an unacle, received a special permit from General Joffre to proceed to Gerardmer, but arrived after the aviator had died.

VILLA'S WIFE LEAVES NEW ORLEANS FOR SAN ANTONIO

New Orleans, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Luz Corral Villa, wife of the Mexican bandit leader, with her son and a party of friends and relatives, left here tonight for San Antonio, Texas, where they will join Hipolito Villa and his family, who are in that city. Mrs. Villa and her party arrived here tonight on the American steamer Atenas from Havana.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 16. — Joseph Murray, treasurer of the Princeton Athletic Association, in a statement tonight said that "as far as can be learned" there will be no changes in the schedule of the Princeton football team because of the development of a case of infantile paralysis among the student body.

GREEK REPUBLIC IS SERIOUSLY PROPOSED

London, Oct. 17.—"What stands in the way of creating a Greek republic?" asks the Daily Mail in an editorial this morning, declaring that a Greek republic was favored by General Sarrail, the commander-in-chief of the allied operations in the Balkans, as well as by ex-Premier Venizelos and other Greek leaders. The Mail continues:

"Rumor says that the obstacle to a republic is not in Greece, but in the courtly minds of statesmen elsewhere, for example, Viscount Grey. But it seems incredible that the theory of divine right should have any considerable supporters in England.

"If the Greeks want a republic, we see no reason why they should not have it."

HUGHES REPLIES TO CHARGE BY WILSON

Says There Would be No "Invisible Government" in United States if He were President.

HE SPEAKS IN OMAHA, NEB.

Assails Adamson Law as "Un-American"—Says Country Has Not Been Kept Out of War—Refers to "Unshackled Business."

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 16.—Chas. E. Hughes, replying to the charge that his election might mean that "invisible government" would be installed in the United States, tonight told an audience that crowded the auditorium here to the door that there had been no invisible government in New York while he was governor, that there would be no invisible government in the United States if he were president.

"I think it might be said," Mr. Hughes asserted, "that the present administration has been in large measure an administration of unofficial spokesmen, of mysterious influences.

"And I can say in entire good humor that I desire government through two houses and not three."

Assails Adamson Law.

Mr. Hughes assailed the Adamson law, most vigorously declaring that it was "un-American and absolutely without justification ever to surrender legislative or executive power to the demand of force, either by capital or labor," and declared that the 'plain people of the country should rebuke the administration for its surrender to force."

President Wilson's reference to "unshackled business," made in the same hall on the President's recent visit here, was answered with the declaration that there had been no "clarification of the anti-trust act" and by the nominee's assertion that "he was amazed that any such claim had been put forward."

The administration's Mexican policy was cited as answer to the declaration that the country had been kept out of war.

Merely a Monstrosity.

The charge that a vote for Hughes meant a vote for war was characterized as a "montrosity."

"Some one told me today," Mr. Hughes said, "and it seems at times to be the case, that the motto of the present administration is a 'problem avoided is a problem solved'."

The nominee was cheered for three minutes by the crowd which filled every seat and occupied all the standing room in the rear of the hall. In the galleries there were at times confusion and interruptions which the nominee took, in one instance, to mean an attempt to heckle him on the Adamson law.

"There has been a whisper back there in the gallery," Mr. Hughes said, "of some one, I think, who wants to know my view on the Adamson law. I don't propose to leave here till I tell him."

The nominee reiterated his attack on the administration for the enactment of the law, closing his speech with it. The crowd stood and cheered.

Completes Nebraska Campaign

The speech of the nominee here tonight completed his campaign in Nebraska and was his fifth address of the day. He reached Omaha somewhat tired and in poor voice.

In a speech here tonight, Mr. Hughes said the real attitude of the administration towards business was disclosed by its attitude discouraging the Chinese loan, "a legitimate basis for the extention of ...merican enterprise."

Mr. Hughes left here late tonight for points in South Dakota.

SAYS IT IT TIME FOR PROGRESSIVE FORCES OF NATION TO UNITE

der what thoughtful men in such circumstances are beginning to see that we are facing the most critical choice, the most critical, political choice, that has been made in our generation, because we are now to choose, for the time being at any rate, the very character and foundation of our government? We are to choose its spirit, its object, its motive, and we are to choose between the interest of the great mass and body of people and the interest of certain privately controlled and secretly concerting interests."

Why They Support Wilson.

Rabbi Wise in a brief speech declared the visitors were supporting Mr. Wilson because they were "unwilling to accept the leadership of Messrs. Barns, Rosevelt, Penrose and Perkins." He praised the President for the appointment of Justices Brandeis and Clarke to the United States Supreme court.

Mr. Pinchot told the President the delegation was with him because they felt "the issue was very clear between the forces of the Republican party, the old forces of privilege, and the progressive forces which you lead."

IRRIGATION CONVENTION OPENS.

President Wilson Sends Message Expressing Deep Interest.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 16.—At the opening session of the 23rd International Irrigation Congress convention today, President Richard F. Bruges, of El Paso, read a message from President Wilson expressing "deep and constant interest in the important work in which the congress is engaged."

A. A. Jones, personal representative of the President, addressed the delegates and expressed the President's regret at inability to be present at the meeting and at the dedication of the Elephant Butte dam.

The dedication of the dam at Elephant Butte, N. M., will take place Thursday, October 19, having been postponed from last Saturday.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 16.—Officials of the Order of Railway Conductors and of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen announced here today that 90 per cent of the ballots recently cast by trainmen of the Canadian Pacific Railway, demading certain concessions in the way of working hours and duties, support the recommendation of the investigating committee favoring a strike. Both sides admit that there are good prospects of an agreement.

NEARLY 32,000 AUTOMOBILES LICENSED IN NORTH CAROLINA

Estimated That the Number Will Reach About 40,000 by January.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 16.—The Secretary of State has licensed 31,725 automobiles since July 1, when the license year opened. Applications are coming in on an average of 50 per day, there having been nearly 100 today, which represents an accumulation of Sunday mails, of course. During the entire previous year there were only 24,000 autos licensed and the year previous to that there were only 16,000. It is estimated now that there will be well over 40,000 machines licensed by the first of the year.

RHEUMATISM AFTER HIS DAY'S OUTING

Hunting Trip on a Wet Day Brings Painful Results.

Once upon a time Charles Mullen, of Philadelphia, went gunning. It was a dismal rainy day, and long exposure to cold and wet brought on a severe attack of rheumatism. He was confined to his home.

A friend recommended Sloan's Liniment, citing his own case as evidence of its effectiveness. Mullen bought a bottle and applied it to his aching limbs. Soon improvement was noticed, and he was able to return to business.

Mr. Mullen writes: "Since that experience I have never been without Sloan's Liniment in the medicine chest." You will find it soothes bruises, sprains, toothache, and relieves lame back, neuralgia, in fact all external pains. At all druggists, 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

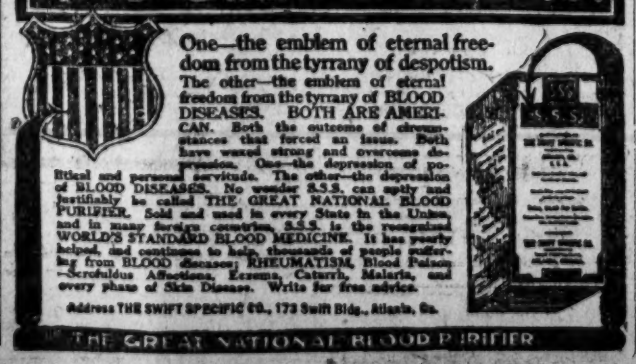
Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomain-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

TWO GREAT EMBLEMS!



One—the emblem of eternal freedom from the tyrrany of despotism. The other—the emblem of eternal freedom from the tyrrany of BLOOD DISEASES. BOTH ARE AMERICAN. Both the outcome of circumstances that forced an issue. Both have waxed strong and overcome depression. One—the depression of political and personal servitude. The other—the depression of BLOOD DISEASES. No wonder S.S.S. can aptly and justifiably be called THE GREAT NATIONAL BLOOD PURIFIER. Sold and used in every State in the Union, and in many foreign countries, S.S.S. is the recognized WORLD'S STANDARD BLOOD MEDICINE. It has yearly helped and continues to help, thousands of people suffering from BLOOD diseases; RHEUMATISM, Blood Poison—Scrofulous Affections, Eczema, Catarrh, Malaria, and every phase of Skin Disease. THEATRICAL

Nothing presented at the Victoria during the present season it seems, has given so universal pleasure to large crowds as Zarrow's Variety Review presented for the first time to large audiences yesterday, despite the strong opposition.

It is the first all-vaudeville bill of the season and came as a pleasant innovation and change from the musical comedy productions of the past few weeks, and will doubtless play to capacity business all the week.

By far the greatest hit of the show, of course, is the famous Lynch Trio, as they have never appeared on any vaudeville bill without being the biggest hit of the entire show. They are absolutely the niftiest juvenile entertainers ever seen in Wilmington, and for that matter, they are the best in the country. Their line of singing, talking and dancing is different from anything ever seen here before, and went over with a riot at every performance.

Next comes Musical Al Nuttle, the recognized musical king, who manipulates a big line of odd instruments in a manner that has never before been seen hereabouts.

Hill and Edmonds, a comedy sketch, "Making Hubby Jealous," pulled some comedy that also delighted in a great measure; Bessie Knowles, the soprano soloist, pleased very much and Snyder and Vaughn in black and tan comedy were another big hit.

This show will go on for the last times today, a brand new show being presented Wednesday.

Theda Bara at Royal.

William Fox, who is always presenting the interesting, the novel and the new in photoplays, today presents to Royal patrons that far-famed vampire woman of Fox photoplays, in her latest and greatest achievement, a wonderful modern film version of that far-famed and widely read book and that most famous old stage play, "East Lynne," which should be the greatest and most interesting offering of the year on the Fox programme.

William Fox has given to the screen a picture version of the favorite of millions that is well worthy of its reputation. The story is developed with great wealth of picture detail, so that those who have not read the book—and they are very few—will get a comprehensive idea of "East Lynne."

Starring in this superb screen masterdrama, no one could have been selecting to portray the role of Lady Isabel than Theda Bara. She takes advantage of her opportunities in an emotional role that might afford a temptation to over act, and gives a dignified conception of a woman whose misstep is due less to an inherent tendency to wrong-doing than an outraged feeling of neglect. Theda Bara gains sympathy for the misguided Lady Isabel in the scenes where the jealous wife tries to maintain her faith in her husband regardless of the insinuations cast by the captain. Claire Whitney, the famous Fox beauty, portrays with power the role of Barbara Hare.

"Peg O' the Ring" Today.

Today Bijou patrons will have the extreme pleasure of witnessing the greatest chapter yet of that stupendous serial achievement. "Peg O' The Ring," the greatest triumph of those two great stars, Grace Cunard and Francis Ford. The twelfth stupendous chapter, just three chapters from the grand finale of this great serial contains more thrills to the square inch than you have ever before seen packed into two reels of photoplay. There's dare-devil stunts which would be the envy of any producer of thrillers and in the tamer moments Grace Cunard and Francis Ford come forth with some of their tense dramatic moments which have made them the idols of so many million photoplay devotees. It's two great reels of pictures, and you don't want to miss anything from now until the grand finish three weeks from today.

That beautiful Kalem star, Ivy Close, the famous English comedienne, will present her latest film comedy de luxe, "Stolen Plumage," co-starring with Henry Murdock in one of their most pleasing comedy offerings.

Then comes inimitable Tom Mix, with Victoria Forde, in another one of their rousing Western comedy dramas, "The Cannyball Outlaws," a scream from beginning to end.

All-Feature Day at Grand.

Today is an all-feature day at the Grand, and it is ventured that you will get as much genuine enjoyment out of the two big features presented today as you have ever gotten out of any photoplay show, no matter how much you paid. For every one of the stars are of the greatest, the same ones who appear in the biggest feature productions.

Th headliner is a mammoth three-part Broadway Star Feature, "The Ruling Power," and it stars a big bunch of great stars, headed by the inimitable Edith Storey, who has appeared recently in some great and costly feature productions, also James Morrison, of "The Battle Cry of Pease," L. Rogers Lytton, Leah Baird and still other great stars. It is a drama with some quaint and humorous comedy touches throughout, and will be found thoroughly enjoyable and entertaining for the full three-quarters of an hour that it is on the screen.

Then comes a mammoth two-reel Essanay feature, "The Old Fashioned Girl," introducing that film beauty, Marguerite Clayton, in one of her most fascinating and pleasing roles, assisted by Florence Oberlie, Patrick Calhoun and other great Essanay stars.

A great five reel bill, and all for five cents, will guarantee you a great show.

WAKE FOREST NOTES.

Dr. Sledd Speaks at Sanford—Cosmos Club Holds Meeting.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest, N. C., Oct. 16.—Dr. Benjamin F. Sledd, head of the English department, returned today from Sanford where he delivered a lecture before the Civics Club on "War Time Wanderings." Dr. Sledd will speak next Friday near Rocky Mount at Red Oaks school, taking for his subject, "Views on Education and Manual Training."

The October meeting of the Cosmos Club was held last Friday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Poteat. An interesting and varied programme was observed, consisting in the reading and discussion of four short stories which were read by Dr. H. M. Poteat, Mrs. E. B. Earnshaw, Mrs. W. R. Cullom, and Dr. W. L. Poteat.

TRAVELERS NEVER BEFORE CARRIED SO MANY SUIT CASES

Railroad People Puzzled Over Problem of Handling Them—From Virginia.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Oct. 16.—With 154 suit cases piled into the passenger cars on a local passenger train for the south at one Virginia station on a single trip and all filled with liquor, a special agent of the railroad company points to the mad rush that is being made to get liquor before the prohibition law goes into effect in Virginia. With special agents and officers on most every train the baggage of the traveling public is getting so bulky that even extra passenger cars are not able to care for the many suit cases transporting hundreds of gallons into this State every day.

Of course, the officers of the law under the act of seizure and possession of more than a quart is evidence of sale are having a great time on the return of the prodigals, but at that there appears to be no end of them that will take the risk and hundreds are geting away with stocks to store and some their Christmas liquor every day.

RALEIGH'S WHITE WAY NOW IN USE FOR FAIR WEEK.

Covers Eight Blocks on Martin and Six on Fayetteville Streets.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 16.—Raleigh is reveling in a great white way now that stretches from Union depot eight blocks down Martin street to the city market and has a main cross section on Fayetteville street that extends from the Capitol Square six blocks to Davie street. The lights were turned on for the first time Saturday night and there is very general gratification at their complete success.

The Carolina Power & Light Co., had been racing for days in an effort to have the old light and telephone poles torn down and hauled away before the opening of the State Fair Monday. They had the work completed with two days of grace and the improvement in the appearance of the streets both day and night is immense. The white way section of the city has a complete system of underground wiring.

SAMPSON DEMOCRATS TO MEET.

County Convention to Name County Ticket to be Held Saturday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clinton, N. C., Oct. 16.—The Democratic county convention has been called for Saturday of this week by Chairman A. McL. Graham. No one is hankering to run on the county ticket especially, as the Republicans always manage to run up a whopping big majority in this county, yet the loyal Democrats always want some one to vote for and they feel that a Democratic office-seeker never had cause more just than he has this year; when peace and prosperity smile on every one. They feel that at no time in the history of the party has a Democrat ever had so much to make him rejoice over his membership.

TOP O' THE MORNING.

A haze on the far horizon
The infinite tender sky
The ripe, rich tint of the cornfields
And the wild geese sailing high.

And all over upland and lowland
The charm of the goldenrod.
Some of us call it autumn,
And others call it God.
—W. H. CARRUTH.

Ah, g'wan and get that packing house ready for business.

Never mind! Christmas is coming, and then you may have ham and turkey for dinner.

"Sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," but a gander is such a goose that he can't be made to believe it.

A Western man and his wife have agreed not to talk politics, as the man is a Democrat while his wife is a Republican. Politics surely does make strange bedfellows.

A California preacher advises girls to avoid rouge, powder and puffs and quit all their arts of deception. If the girls were to take that advice, there would be nobody to fool the boys.

Hughes is said to be counting on carrying Texas, and the Democrats are threatening to carry Pennsylvania. Bedads, the pipe dreamers! They'd chase a soap bubble under the impression that it was a Zeppelin.

It is said that Villa is wearing a long black beard, but if he expects whiskers will give a fellow luck, he ought to note what is going to happen in this country on the 7th of November. Probably Villa will see the barber next day.

Reference was made in these columns a few days ago to the remarkable growth which Hamlet is enjoying. The Star's correspondent says he counted twelve dwellings on one block in course of erection now and also that there is not a vacant residence or mercantile building in town.

New York newspaper men tried to interview Ambassador Gerard when he recently returned from Germany. Probably they knew he wouldn't talk, but maybe they thought he did not know any better than to talk. It is part of a diplomat's business to say nothing and very little of that.

It's all right to let the office seek the man, but we are here to tell you that, if you sit down and do nothing but wait for the office to get filled with a man it seeks, it will be filled all right, but those whose interests are inimical to yours are mighty apt to fill it with a man who will look out for their interests and not yours!

The people in Brazil have found out that Colonel Roosevelt came back to America from his trip to Brazil and put out the rumor that he discovered the River of Doubt. The Brazilians think the Colonel is trying to cut them out of the credit after they had taken the trouble to go with him and show him the stream on account of the fact that he had never seen it before.

That was a remarkable story of progress related by The Star's Burgaw correspondent in Sunday's paper, in which he gave the public school statistics of Pender county for 1905-6 compared with those of 1915-16. The same sort of story can be written of the progress in educational affairs in Columbus, Robeson, Wake, Durham, Guilford and most of the other counties in the State. The figures are actually astonishing. Yet the Republicans have the nerve to attack Democracy's public school record in North Carolina. Verily they are wasting ammunition on the very Verdun of Democracy's record in this State.

THE WAY OF PEACE VS. THE WAY OF PIECE.

Hughes now says he is for peace, but he has led us to believe all along that he is for a piece of Mexico. The crowd backing Hughes has several hundred million dollars invested in mining property, oil property, railroads and ranches in Mexico, and they want this country to take that piece of Mexico in which their interests lie. They have demanded intervention at the sacrifice of American lives simply because of their money investments, and in every speech that Hughes has made he has denounced Wilson's "watchful waiting policy," thus intimating to the interventionists that his policy would be intervention, which is the opposite of the Wilson policy.

The Mexican situation calls for but two policies—the one, "watchful waiting" with a peaceful solution in view; the other, intervention which everybody knows would mean war and annexation. If Judge Hughes really is opposed to "watchful waiting," he certainly is for intervention and annexation, and if he really were to declare what he stands for, it would be for a policy agreeable to American investors who want American lives sacrificed in order to protect their millions invested in Mexico, as well as to enhance the value of their holdings in the strife-ridden republic.

Everybody acquainted with the elements that go to maintain and enhance property values knows that the same piece of property would be worth more on the market under the dominion of the United States government than under any government Mexico has had in some years. One result of intervention in Mexico, involving inevitable annexation or American rule over Mexico, similar to that in operation for years in the Philippines, would be to greatly enhance the value of property in Mexico. The property in Mexico held by American interests would doubtless, in many instances, be doubled in value by a change from Mexican to American government in that country. Isn't it plain, therefore, that intervention in Mexico would mean millions added to the wealth of American investors in Mexico? There would be millions in intervention—for the adventurous investors.

Don't we know that if there were no American money invested in Mexico, every American would be for watchful waiting? This country is not the least disturbed about revolutions in countries in which there are no American investments. In fact, we make a joke of their revolutions, but the investment element does not consider it a joke when they have taken a gambler's chance in such a turbulent country as Mexico.

Whether Judge Hughes is for peace with Mexico or a piece of Mexico, he never yet has declared against intervention. All of us who have kept up with history know that intervention in a foreign country always means war. Intervention in Cuba meant war with Spain and it would mean war with Mexico. Up to the time that President Wilson sent a punitive expedition into Mexico to chase Villa no foreign army had set foot in Mexico without a fight. The Mexicans gave Uncle Sam a fight in Mexico in 1846 and they put Maximillian out of business in 1866.

Whether all the measures taken by President Wilson in handling the Mexican situation were proper or not, their main result was a peaceful outcome. He avoided open hostilities with Huerta and he has avoided open hostilities with Carranza. The Wilson administration's descent upon Vera Cruz to teach Huerta a lesson taught it all right, and Villa was the next to be taught a lesson by the punitive expedition not yet withdrawn from Mexico.

Fair-minded men will observe that but for the firmness and matchless diplomacy of Wilson we would have had war with Mexico when our naval forces took possession of Vera Cruz and again when we sent the American army into a foreign country to chase Villa. By the matchless and sincere diplomacy accompanying the assault on Vera Cruz and our later invasion of Mexico, President Wilson on both occasions has convinced the Mexicans that the country has no aggressive designs on Mexico. That accounts for the fact that our army is still in Mexico and is not molested by the de facto government of that country of good fighters.

To us it is a marvelous thing that we have committed two acts of war against the neighboring republic and yet no war was the result. Why? Simply because the Mexican people believe in both the firmness and the justness and the sincerity of the American President. By a little show of force, but with consummate diplomacy accompanying it, President Wilson has not only averted war with Mexico but the Mexicans are satisfied that the great American Republic is a big brother who will not take advantage of their weakness and deplorable condition to violate the sovereignty and integrity of the sister republic. Hence and wherefore, the Mexicans have implicit faith in the intentions of this country, and so our army of invasion is daily making friends of the Mexican people and is gaining their confidence in America.

That is a marvelous chapter in history written right before our eyes and right under our noses, and it is perfectly astonishing to us. It ought to be astonishing to Judge Hughes, and it would be if he were not running for president. What American than President Wilson could have averted war with Mexico? He has held the rod in one hand and the scales of justice in the other, and yet he has made the Mexicans behold justice and fear no evil to their country from our navy or our army. That is a historic fact and criticisms of an undefined kind and carpings about the incidents involved cannot wipe it out. The predominating fact in it is the actual achievement, and the emphasized and gloriously apparent result is peace between America and Mexico.

Perhaps other men in the world might have dealt with chaos and smoothed over an upheaval that had danger ever flying as its signal, but President Wilson achieved success at it. Honestly, we have to conclude that Americans ought to thank God for Wilson and that the Mexicans have every reason to thank God for Wilson. We can't see how any man's conscience will let him criticise a mighty achievement that in its final analysis is a God's blessing to humanity.

AVOID THOSE LABORING UNDER INDICTMENT.

Since Republicanism in North Carolina has no achievement to point to and only a record which Republicans themselves simply hate to face, we often wonder why they are still in the game. If it is because of a protective tariff, a man who votes the Republican ticket for national reasons or industrial reasons, as the case may be, prefers to place the higher interests of his state in jeopardy for the sake of a system of graft for special interests, such as was embodied in the Payne-Aldrich-Smoot tariff monstrosity. That was the last tariff ideal of National Republicanism, so we can't see how the people can trust the Republican party to provide this country with an equitable tariff law. That party's last tariff legislation was denounced by Roosevelt in 1912 as a brutal betrayal of the people and that was one time that the Aldrich monstrosity furnished the proof to bear him out.

We don't think any loyal North Carolinian can trust his State to Republicanism for the kind of tariff protection that betrayed the people into the hands of tariff beneficiaries so empowered to exploit the masses. Maybe they didn't do it! Ah, well, Colonel Roosevelt himself led a revolt against it. He took up the cause of the people and marched as far as Armageddon, but he marched back again and rejoined the betrayers of the people.

For in so doing, the Progressives are now declaring that the Colonel betrayed the Progressive party. The Hon. John M. Parker, who was Roosevelt's running mate for the vice presidency, is proclaiming it on the stump. He ought to know, for he was in the Progressive camp at Chicago and saw the Colonel abandon the Progressive party and endeavor to surrender it to the party that betrayed the people. That is their quarrel, however, but the loyal Progressives surely have something to quarrel about. Colonel Parker is leading a revolt against that new betrayal, and though he affirms that he is no Democrat, he is telling the people that the only friend they can look to with confidence and hope is Woodrow Wilson.

The Progressive party is headed by Colonel Parker in this campaign and as their chosen leader he is warning them against the party which betrayed the people and against the man who betrayed the Progressives to follow the party of Root and Penrose and Smoot, the successors of Aldrich, Payne and Smoot. Under these circumstances and in view of the historic facts about the kinds of betrayal that have taken place in plain view of the people, we can't see how a North Carolinian can throw down his State for tariff graft for special interests. The voters won't get any of it, but they surely would get four more years of some sort of betrayal.

Anyhow, North Carolina comes first of all, whatever happens to all the betrayers of the people. If they had not been caught with the goods on them, it might be different, but we happen to be a witness for the people of North Carolina in this instance. We can corroborate both Colonel Roosevelt and Colonel Parker as to the two cases of betrayal, and what Roosevelt said four years ago and what Parker is saying now shows that The Star is no swift witness in this case.

The Republican party has been indicted by Roosevelt and both have been indicted by Colonel Parker, a true Progressive, so North Carolinians who are true blue will take care of North Carolina and let the indicted defendants stand trial by themselves. This is no time for a man to make himself a party defendant with those who can be easily convicted by witnesses in their own household.

THE TAILOR PRESIDENT

A Chicago dispatch states that Maj. H. T. Blacknall, of that city, is the possessor of a coat made in Raleigh, stitch by stitch, by a tailor who afterwards became president of the United States. "His name," says the dispatch, "was Andrew Jackson!"

Of course, Andrew Johnson instead of Andrew Jackson was meant. Yet some North Carolina papers are running that item under this head: "Jackson Coat Made in Raleigh 94 Years Ago." Of course, tailors are all right, but Old Hickory was some lawyer. However, Andrew Johnson was a tailor and a good one at that. He was born in or near Raleigh, and the coat which he is said to have made in a tailor shop there about 94 years ago was made for General McClanahan, whose daughter married Major Blacknall, who fell heir to the coat.

Andrew Johnson learned the tailor's trade when he was a youth and he became a journeyman tailor in the Carolinas. He was employed by other tailors in some places but in others he owned his own shop. We have had work done in a shop which once belonged to Johnson, the tailor, and the tailor who worked with him and succeeded him occupied the Johnson shop for many years afterwards. Within the past seven or eight years it was torn down, and Uncle Sam now owns the lot. The pretty postoffice building at Chester, S. C., now stands on that lot, and, incidentally, it might be regarded as a memorial to the eminent man who once did business on what is now the postoffice corner. All this is well known in Chester, and it is a fact that some of the war time citizens of that part of the country still owned Johnson-made jim swingers and Johnson-made hats, for in those days the swellest sort of hats were made by the tailors.

There are living today many old fashioned gentlemen who never wore a store bought hat till after the Civil War. Northern-made hats and even shoes and clothing were curiosities for several years after the war. Such things were held in contempt and were regarded as frauds—about as much so as wood nutmegs, alleged to have been produced in Connecticut. Nearly all store shoes were even suspected of having pasteboard soles.

In fact, that is all the kind of soles that some shoes could boast of. Shoe drummers used to have to carry samples of shoes split open through the soles so the merchants from Missouri could be satisfied that they were not being defrauded. Some merchants yet living probably remember all about it.

Mr. Henry Ford remarks that "the office should seek the man." However, an office had better be careful about the kind of man it seeks. It may make as big a mistake as Colonel Roosevelt makes when he seeks for a man for president. He says the first one he palmed off on us was a "gold brick," but later on became the "receiver of stolen goods," and yet the Colonel has sought out another and is standing by him so far. The nerve of 'im! No gold bricker could expect to succeed in but one transaction.

Some few people seem to think the proper course for them in this presidential campaign is to maintain a "neutral" position. Well, suppose the rank and file and the masses of the people would assume a neutral attitude. Nothing could better please the special interests who want high protection and intervention and war for their special benefit, and while the balance of us were being neutral they would elect a president of their own to a seat in the White House and then tell the rank and file of the people to go to—

A LESSON ON THE STARS

For Wilmington School Children, Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls.

(By John J. Blair, Supt. of Schools).

The faculty of observation is one which can be cultivated in a large degree. The development of this faculty is of the greatest importance in acquiring a well rounded education. Many of our school children are very observing and enjoy the changing aspect of the stars and heavenly bodies.

Those who have looked out toward the eastern sky just after dark have seen, during the past week, the full moon and a beautiful bright star quite near to the right. Each night it will be noticed that the moon has passed by the star and appears farther and farther below it. As these two heavenly bodies are near together, it will be interesting to compare them with one another; first, as to distance, then as to size, movement, etc.

In the first place it should be borne in mind that the moon revolves around the earth and that Jupiter revolves around the sun just as our earth does; that the moon revolves around the earth but once a month and Jupiter around the sun once in 12 years. The moon is 240,000 miles from the earth. It would take a railroad train, traveling 40 miles an hour, 350 days to make the journey. A string wrapped around our earth ten times, if straightened out would just reach to the moon. If a gun could be constructed big enough to be heard all the way to the moon, the sound would reach it in two weeks.

The sun is 93,000,000 miles away from the earth, while Jupiter is five times as far. It takes light eight minutes to travel from the sun to the earth, and it would take a ray of light from Jupiter 40 minutes to travel from that planet to the earth.

As to size, our earth is 8,000 miles in diameter. The moon is 2,000 miles in diameter. Jupiter is greater in volume than all of the other planets put together.

The moon does not shine by its own light but by light reflected from the sun. Jupiter, also, shines by the reflected light of the sun.

Those who have viewed Jupiter through the telescope recall that this planet is accompanied by several moons instead of one which accompanies our own planet, the earth. The observer should remember that the moon is a cold, dead body without atmosphere or life; that only one face is ever visible to the earth; and that the spots on the moon appear through the telescopes to be mountains and craters of extinct volcanoes.

During next week the observatory will be open and children and visitors who would like to enjoy a view of Jupiter through the telescope will be given an opportunity to do so.

CONGRESSMAN PAGE FOR AMENDMENTS.

Replying to your letter of the 20th instant asking an expression of opinion from me as to the four amendments to the constitution to be voted on at this election.

I have very carefully examined each of the four, and we have no hesitancy in saying that number 7, 3 and 4 it seems to me are absolutely essential, while number 2 is desirable.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A solid Democratic delegation in Congress from North Carolina will be the result of the election in November if the Democrats in all parts of the State go at the work with a determination to win. The Tenth District should be redeemed and all the others held with increased majorities.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Major Stedman's private secretary is home from Washington and brings the glad news that the Major will doubtless be ready to leave the hospital within a week. It will be a matter of genuine regret to his friends to know that his physicians will advise against his taking any active part in the campaign. But he has friends by the score and those friends will be busy from this on. And the loyal Democrats of the Old Fifth under these conditions, will see to it that the Major is returned by a substantial majority.—Greensboro Record (Ind.)

Mr. R. J. Reynolds, the tobacco manufacturer of Winston-Salem, has been interested in the solution of the better housing problem for the people of that city. The Journal says Mr. Reynolds has been making a study of the matter for over a year and believes that he has hit upon the right plan. If the city will lay the mains by which sewer connections may be made, he will put his plan into operation. He proposes to build a perfectly sanitary system of houses sufficient for the accommodation of 50 families as an object lessop in modern housing, and rent all of them on a basis of 6 per cent. The Journal doubts "if any city has ever had submitted to it a proposition more unique and liberal." It would seem to afford Winston-Salem an opportunity to take position at the head of the more progressive cities in the solution of a problem upon which the minds of the best architectural talent of the country has been engaged in recent years. The Reynolds plan would be a long step in the promotion of human comfort and good health.—Charlotte Observer.

Great as has been the advance in the diversification of crops, in the southeastern section of the United States, the idea is to be emphasized anew at the exposition about to be opened in Atlanta. The model farm cottage to be shown there will resemble neither the white pillared mansion of plantation days nor the cabin that sheltered the cotton picker, but, properly equipped for modern needs, will typify the new South. Such a dwelling is a far better expression of democracy than either of the old types, in a part of the country long Democratic politically.—Christian Science Monitor, Boston.

FLAYS ROOK PLAYERS

Rev. W. R. Quinton, in Revival at Clinton, Riles Some of the Ladies.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Clinton, N. C., Oct. 16.—Rev. W. R. Quinton and Mrs. Quinton, two revivalists of the Methodist church, South, are holding a meeting in the Clinton church. Mr. Quinton is an effective pulpiteer and he is ably assisted by his wife. At each service they sing beautiful duets which touch the hearts of the people. Mrs. Quinton is quite as good a speaker in the pulpit as is her husband. In order to set at rest all feeling that a woman has no place as a preacher in the church, Mr. Quinton preached a special sermon on Monday on "Why Women Should Preach."

This evangelist does not spare the rod on the sinners. Every once in a while, when he makes some bold statement in regard to the wickedness of the people, he steps back, rolls up his sleeves and says to the congregation: "I'm from Kentucky and I'm not scared of any of you." He has flayed the rook players the past week and some of the women have been indignant over the term he employs in speaking of the devotees of this game—"crooks."

ENTHUSIASM INCREASES

As the Time Draws Nearer for the Sampson County Fair.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Clinton, N. C., Oct. 16.—As the time draws near for the holding of the Sampson county fair the enthusiasm of the people waxes warmer. The buildings are practically completed now, the race track is in excellent shape, and the fair officers are completing all of the details for the affair. The fair officials are expecting a record-breaking crowd. Many of the folks who are dispersed abroad will make fair week a regular "home-coming week."

Indoor Life Makes Fat

TRY OIL OF KOREIN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to Elvington's Pharmacy or any good druggist and get a box of oil of korein capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.

ENGINEER TROOPS TO ARRIVE HERE TONIGHT

Will Entrain Today at Noon At Camp Glenn For El Paso

Wilmington and Charlotte Companies, Under Command of Captain Gillette, are Expected to Reach Here at 6:30

According to a dispatch to The Star from Camp Glenn last night, the Wilmington and Charlotte engineer companies A and B, under command of Capt G. W. Gillett, of this city, will entrain at Camp Glenn at noon today for the Mexican border, and arrive in Wilmington about 6 o'clock tonight.

The Department of the East at Governor's Island has arranged with the Atlantic Coast Line for a special troop train, consisting of three tourist sleepers, one standard sleeper, a baggage and freight car. While it is fully expected the train will arrive at the hour mentioned at the Union station here, no positive information is available that it will not stop at Smith's Creek yards instead.

The route of the troop train to the border will be via the A. C. L. to Montgomery, Ala., via the L. & N. to New Orleans, and thence to El Paso by the Southern Pacific.

But one of the other three trains that came via Wilmington were brought to the Union station, but in view of the fact that Wilmington is the home station of Company A, the members of which will be most anxious to have their friends and relatives see them off on their long trip, it is believed that Captain Gillette will do all in his power to have a brief stop here arranged with the military authorities. Owing to the late hour of arrival, it is hardly thought likely that there will be any parade through the streets of the city by the troops.

In Company A there are about 70 men, including officers, who in addition to Captain Gillette, are Lieuts. H. R. Faison and W. A. Peschau, both of this city. The Charlotte company consists of about 65 officers and men.

El Paso, Main Base.

El Paso, on the Rio Grande, opposite Juarez, where the Wilmington and Charlotte Guardsmen will be stationed is one of the most desirable of any on the Mexican border. It is the main base of the United States Army for border operations. It is about twice the size of Wilmington in population, a large percentage of which are Mexicans who are citizens and permanent residents of the United States. In addition to the ordinary population there are some 30,000 National Guardsmen on duty in the vicinity of El Paso, so the Tar Heel troops will have plenty of opportunity to get acquainted with members of organizations from other states.

The members of the two Engineer troops are fortunate in being ordered to the border in the fall as the climate of Southwest Texas in the fall and winter is at its best. It is the boast of the residents of the city and it is probably literally true that there are few cloudy days experienced there of any city in the entire country.

As to how long the presence of the Wilmington militiamen will be required on the Mexican border, can only be a matter of conjecture. President Wilson in a recent letter to Governor Whitman, of New York, states that the "emergency which caused the sending of the militia to the border "unhappily still exists." The president also states that he would be very sorry to have it supposed that their retention on the border is for any mere purpose of completing their military training. The letter reads in part as follows:

Emergency Still Exists.

"The emergency which led to the call of the militia was the possibility of aggression from Mexico and protection of our frontier.

"This emergency still, unhappily, exists, and I am advised by the military authorities that withdrawal of the militia at any time from the date of its original call up to and including the present would in all human likelihood have been followed by fresh aggressions from Mexico upon the lives and property of the people of the United States. Militia have therefore been used and are being used to repel invasion and are rendering service of the highest quality and the most urgently needed character to their country.

"I am happy to believe that the condition in Northern Mexico is improving and that in the near future we will be able to do even more than has been done to relieve embarrassments under which these organized militia regiments have necessarily suffered.

"I share your admiration, my dear governor, for the spirit in which these men have served and are serving their country and would be very sorry to have it supposed their retention on the border is for any mere purpose of completing their military training, or indeed any less commanding purpose than the preservation of our frontier from aggression."

UNITED THANK OFFERING.

Episcopal Women of United States Contribute More Than $300,000.

The united thank offering of the Episcopal women of the United States for the carrying on of the work of the church on last Thursday was $352,127.-04, according to advices received in this city yesterday. Thursday was a day set apart by the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal church, which is now in session in St. Louis, to be observed as a day of thank offering. It was observed in Wilmington and a substantial contribution was made by the Episcopal women of this city.

Who Will Pay Guardsmen?

Pending a ruling from the attorney-general at Raleigh as to whether New Hanover county should foot the bill for the presence of State troops here during the strike of the conductors of the Tidewater Power Company, the matter is still unsettled. Maj. E. D. Kuykendall, when ordered to bring the Guardsmen to Wilmington received positive instructions to present the bill for all expenses to New Hanover county. Some officials, however, are of the opinion that the expense should be borne by the State, and to be on the safe side have asked the attorney-general to express an opinion on the subject. The expense of keeping the four militia companies on guard duty here amounted to about $5,000.

BOARD OF EDUCATION TO CONDUCT HEARING

To Decide on Location of School At Carolina Beach

Additional Teacher Wanted at Winter Park and Also at Myrtle Grove —Oak Hill Wants New School Building.

The most serious difficulty now confronting the Board of Education probably is that of finding a place to locate a school building at Carolina Beach that will be satisfactory to the patrons and in order to get first hand information it was decided at a meeting yesterday afternoon to meet with the committee of the district this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when the matter will be gone into thoroughly.

Mr. J. J. Loughlin appeared before the board yesterday afternoon as the representative of the people of that community and asked that something be done right away. Conditions are deplorable, he stated, and it is imperative that a building be erected soon as the one now being used is not only unfit for school purposes but is badly located.

The need of another teacher for the Winter Park school was again presented to the board by Mr. George C. Jackson, who is chairman of the school committee, and a committee from the Community League of that enterprising village composed of Messrs. J. S. Brown, Linwood D. Latta and D. McEwen.

Mr. Latta as spokesman for the delegation pointed out that the school now has an average attendance of 111 and that the primary teacher has 51 pupils. Some of the pupils have been unable to recite any lessons, he said, because the teachers have been overburdened with work. Chairman Kellum intimated that sub-division of the 111 pupils might be arranged by which the other two teachers could relieve the primary teacher of some of her work, but the delegation did not think this a feasible proposition.

Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of public instruction, and Supt. John J. Blair, of the city schools, were appointed as a committee to make an investigation and report back to the board at a special meeting to be held later.

The patrons of the Myrtle Grove school also wanted an additional teacher but the board did not think that this could be possible as there is not sufficient room in the present building. There is an enrollment of 44 pupils and the board thought that the teacher would be able to take care of this number. Mr. George Piner was elected as a member of the school committee of this district to succeed Mr. L. A. Rhodes, who has moved from the district.

Speaking for the patrons of the Oak Hill school, Mr. Jesse Williams asked the board to erect a new building, stating that the present one is in bad condition. The board took this under advisement and will consider it.

Chairman Woodus Kellum presided at the meeting which was attended by the other members of the board, Messrs. J. G. L. Gieschen and B. Solomon.

RESUMES OPERATIONS

Suction-Dredge Henry Bacon Again at Work in Brunswick Cove.

The big suction-dredge Henry Bacon, which has recently been overhauled and repaired by the Wilmington Iron Works Company, will resume its operations in Brunswick Cove, about 15 miles down the river after being laid up for the summer.

The dredge Hercules, which was also laid up several months ago at the government yards here, is now undergoing repairs preparatory to starting dredging operations on the river again. The two tugs, Richard Caswell and Cynthia, which are also employed in this work, are being made ready to be placed in commission again.

One of Teams of Bladen Street Methodist Church to Have Entertainment.

An oyster supper and entertainment will be given tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Albro, No. 712 North Third street, and the public is cordially invited to attend. The supper is being given under the auspices of the "We Will" team which is competing with the "We Can" team in a contest to raise funds to pay off the indebtedness of the Bladen Street Methodist church. An enjoyable time is promised all who attend.

COTTON SMASHES RECORD

Fleecy Staple in Wilmington Starts on an Aviation Trip and Registers At 17 Cent Mark.

Cotton smashed all previous local records for the past half of a century yesterday and took a jump to 17 cents. Not since the days following the War Between the States has cotton sold for this figure on the Wilmington market.

This phenomenal rise has given birth to numerous predictions among the cotton men, and it is now predicted that 20 cotton is but a matter of a few days. Others, however, are of the opinion that the 17-cent mark is the maximum that the fleecy staple will attain. Cotton circles are all agog over the bouncing market and excitement reigns in many of the big cotton centers.

The jump has caused some of the more conservative farmers, who have been holding their crop for a higher price to act in a very conservative manner. They are not rushing to the market with all the feverish haste that has been the case in past instances when the market soared upward. They are waiting calmly for the 20-cent limit that some of them believe to be near at hand.

Wilmington's 17 cent limit yesterday, however, was beaten by the Mobile market, where all past records on the exchange were smashed and cotton soared to 17-12 cents. New Orleans, too, registered higher yesterday than at any time since the late unpleasantness.

BIG CROWDS SAW THE BUFFALO BILL SHOWS

Cordial Greeting for Col. W. F. Cody and His Rough Riders.

Early Scenes on Frontier Portrayed at Two Performances With Vivid Reality by Cowboys, Indians and Soldiers.

Everything else assumes a secondary importance when a circus comes to town and the throngs always surge around the tented rearms of spangles, sawdust and peanuts.

It was thus in Wilmington yesterday, when the Buffalo Bill-101 Ranch shows staged their performances at 12th and Dock streets. Throngs crowded into the quadrangular shaped pavilion and for two hours watched while the curtains of time were rolled back and the pages of American history were unfolded on scenes representative of the frontier of nearly half a century ago.

Eagerly they watched while daredevil cowboys, yelling Indians, comely girls and reckless Cossacks performed feats of horsemanship that seemed incredible. Breathlessly they gazed while the pony express rider changed mounts with a lightning rapidity. Interestingly they looked on while the emigrant train was corraled by hostile redmen and rescued by dashing plainsmen. Wonderingly they saw the old Deadwood stage coach, battered and tattered by years of service, make another run with Indians and cowboys battling around its sides and finally rolling away bearing the "dead and wounded" of the melee.

Expectantly they sat and watched the close of day at the representation of the town of Columbus, N. M., heard the sunset gun boom forth its final salute to the dying day, saw the flag lowered at the garrison post while the bugler sounded "to the colors" and then heard the haunting notes of taps that rang over the sleeping village with only the lone sentry in view. Then from the outskirts crept "Villa" with his henchmen following close on his heels and a moment later was heard the first evil crack of their murderous rifles while the sentry returns their challenge with a leaden messenger.

Twice Col. W. F. Cody, known far and wide as Buffalo Bill, appeared on the scene and each time the big audience of wondering spectators gave him a "hand" that expressed their admiration for on who has passed through so many stirring scenes in the "wild and woolly West."

The big show opened yesterday morning with the long street parade through the principal streets. Headed by a mounted bugler of the regular army and concluding with the inevitable calliope, the procession made a picturesque appearance as it passed through the crowded thoroughfares. Buffalo Bill himself, riding behind a pair of spirited steeds, was enthusiastically greeted by the crowds on the side lines.

To one who admires the picturesque, the grand entree was a revelation. The costumes of cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, soldiers, Cossacks and finally Buffalo Bill presented a spectacle that was well worth seeing.

Edith Tantlinger, an Oklahoma Indian maiden, is some dead-shot. Maybe she misses occasionally, but there is at least one person in the city of Wilmington who does not want to be the principal factor in proving this theory.

Also while speaking of shooting, it might be well to mention one, Johnny Baker, in this connection. He smashed pigeons from every conceivable position, including lying on his back and standing on his head, and he missed but a single one. The only position that he did not try a shot from, was while turning a somersault, but there is little doubt that he would have succeeded here, judging by his other performances.

The Japanese acrobats were also masters of their particular line and their leader seemed to be a man of truly Herculean strength. Their number was introduced by one of the younger members of their troupe who approached the spectators and eloquently insisted that "Yuai shaka jiu lahka sy pro hatsu," a message that was easily understood by the intelligent audience. Their feats of tumbling were in a class by themselves.

The drill by the artillery detachment of the regular soldiers was executed with a snap and precision that comes only from experience and constant practice. This was one of the preparedness features of the show.

The humorous side was touched on, especially by the clowns and their trick mules. The tango by a clown

PLANS WILL BE SUBMITTED

Plans for Proposed Packing Plant Here Will be Presented at Meeting of Directors to be Held Soon.

Announcement was made yesterday by Mr. W. W. Love, president of the Carolina Packing Company, that a meeting of the board of directors of the company will be called within the next ten days for the purpose of submitting to its consideration the preliminary plans for the erection of the proposed packing plant here to be erected at a cost of $100,000.

For the past week or more, a committee of which Mr. Milton Calder is chairman, has been conducting an aggressive campaign both in the city and in the adjoining couties for the purpose of securing additional subscribers to the capital stock of the concern. The members of the committee are very much gratified with the success of their efforts, a full report of which will be made at a special meeting to be held in the near future.

Sufficient capital has already been raised to insure the erection of the packing plant, but the officers and directors of the company intend to keep up the work until an adequate operation capital.

—Among the arrivals at the Hotel Wilmington yesterday were: A. J. Sykes, Greensboro; C. E. Bertol, Fayetteville; M. G. Putnam, Fort Caswell; Joseph B. Mallets, Tarboro.

CORN SHOW HEARING FOR PROTESTS HELD

Committee Claim Down-Town Location Essential to Success.

Those Opposing Proposed Location Threaten to get Out Injunction. Executive Committee Now Considering Objections.

Interest in the Wilmington Corn Show is now centered in the protests by a number of residents living in the vicinity of the proposed location for the fair, beginning near The Star office on Chestnut street and extending back as as Third and on Second from Chestnut to Grace streets, that the tents to be used for the exhibits would prove to be a serious inconvenience to them in several ways. The contemplated site for the fair was selected by City Council after a very careful consideration with a reasonable certainty in the opinion of the members that business would not be interfered with to any material extent and that fewer people would be inconvenienced here than at any other location in the downtown section.

Considerable talk on the subject recently gave rise to rumors that some definite protests would be made by certain residents for various and sundry reasons, which were considered of less importance than if they had come from a location where retail stores and business houses would be hemmed in by the tents and forced to partially suspend business during the four days of the show, but nevertheless they took more specific form yesterday and were taken into consideration by the executive committee of the Corn Show.

When the matter of location first came up all questions of interference with regular business traffic to the serious detriment of stores, etc., were carefully weighed and this location was the one that singled itself out as the place where it was thought the least possible objection could be raised. For instance, on the South side of Chestnut street the postoffice park occupies the big open space and then it occurred to the City Council and the committee from the Corn Show that there was some possibility of interfering with a public garage next to The Star office and it was forthwith decided to pitch the tents beyond this place. The remainder of the way along the entire course, with the exception of one wholesale house on North Second street that has access to Front street, is residential property. The sidewalks under no circumstances will be blocked, it is stated.

In order to test out the proposition a petition from the Corn Show executive committee was circulated in that section, and it was thought that sufficient signatures were secured to justify the continuance of the work in the interest of the fair, which, it is claimed, is almost entirely dependent upon a down-town location for its success. The show has been advertised widely with the understanding that a central location could be secured, as this is considered a tremendous drawing card, as proven by last year's success, and as stated in all literature that has been circulated in the nine counties relating to the show.

In order that the Corn Show executive committee could determine the source of the complaints and the cause, a meeting was called yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock in fairness to those who contend that it would be an undue menace to their personal rights and seriously objectionable to their interests.

Those who appeared before the committee were Messrs. Thos. F. Wood, C. A. Price, James C. Stewart and their attorney, Herbert McClammy, Esq. The meeting was more for conciliation than for any other reason, although complaints were advanced that the live stock feature of the show would be the chief objection, as this would be of detriment to the public health of that community; that it would also be a great inconvenience to the residents of this section in going to and from their homes and would be otherwise altogether undesirable. The committee was told that if any attempt was made to put the tents at the location indicated that efforts would be made to procure an injunction to stop the work. This, of course, would put the Corn Show out of business, members of the committee stated.

One member of the executive committee said yesterday that the Corn Show is a Wilmington institution, supported by the business people of the community and held in the interest of community betterment; that it is the consensus of opinion in Wilmington that it is a worthy proposition and those who are promoting the show had all they could do to carry it out in the creditable manner proposed without having a continuous fight on their hands.

It is probable that some reference will be made to the matter at the meeting of the City Council tomorrow morning, where probably other information in reference to the fight will be brought out.

CAPTAIN MATHESON HERE.

He Says Lock No. 2 Will be in Operation by January 1.

Captain J. R. D. Matheson, in local charge of the construction work on Lock and Dam No. 2, at Brown's Landing, was in the city yesterday for the purpose of holding a conference with Major A. E. Waldron, in charge of the Wilmington Engineering District relative to the inauguration of construction work on the rip-rap dam which will be built across the river at the lock site.

The lock has been completed, as was announced several days ago, but the dam yet remains to be built. It is estimated that the dam will be completed and the lock in operation by January 1.

THIEVES ENTER STORE

Goods Stolen from Store of Alvaleotis & Pasvanis, Sunday Night.

The police were notified yesterday that thieves had entered the store of S. H. Alvaleotis & Pasvanis, No. 601 Castle street, some time during Sunday night and made away with a quantity of goods, consisting of a yellow leather suit case, some under clothes and toilet articles.

The thieves made their entrance by breaking out a pane of glass in the kitchen window, the building being a combination residence and store. Policeman J. O. Bullard was sent to the scene, but failed to find any clue to the culprits.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Only Cases of Trivial Nature Tried at Yesterday Morning's Session.

Only offenses of a more or less trivial nature were aired in the Recorder's court at yesterday morning's session. Rachel Faison and Mabel Starkey, two descendants of Ham, were the principal offenders, they being charged with engaging in an affray in one of the darktown alleys. After hearing the evidence, they were dismissed with the costs.

William Johnson, a 10-year-old negro boy, was up for riding a bicycle without lights, but on account of his tender years, he was parolled in the custody of his mother.

Other cases disposed of were Willie McGee, colored, violating automobile law, costs; Ed Roberson, colored, alias James Roberson, assault on female, fined $5.

Mr. E. Y. Hall paid a fine of $2.50 for violating the driving ordinance, while James Whitehurst, colored, charged with the same offense, failed to appear and a capias was issued for him.

WILL OPEN BIDS TODAY

Proposals for Furnishing City With Aerial Fire Truck to be Received.

Bids for furnishing the city of Wilmington with an aerial fire truck will be opened in the office Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, this morning at 10 o'clock. Several salesmen representing fire truck companies arrived yesterday and others are expected today. As the truck will cost approximately $10,000, it is expected that there will be a keen contest on the part of different manufacturers. The city reserves the right to reject any and all proposals.

The new truck is to have an expansion of not less than 75 feet which will make it possible to reach the tops of all buildings in the city with but few exceptions almost instantaneously. The truck is to be purchased with the extra tax assessment of three and a half cents on the hundred dollars which was authorized by a vote of the people last spring.

BRANCH-BUCK WEDDING TOOK PLACE HERE MONDAY MORNING

Miss Annie Bell Branch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Branch, of this city, and Mr. Edward Parker Buck, formerly of this city, were married yesterday morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. L. Rexford. The wedding came somewhat as a surprise to the friends of the contracting parties, as they were not informed of the wedding until lafter it had occurred.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Buck left on the 8:40 o'clock train for Wilmington, Del., where they will make their residence in the future. Mr. Buck holds a position with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

UNIQUE FISHING PARTY IS ENJOYED AT GARLAND.

Garland, N. C., Oct. 16.—On the afternoon of October 14th, the hospitable doors of Mrs. William Sloan were thrown open to her friends. Soon after the guests arrived it was announced that the special feature of the occasion was that of a fishing party. Each guests was provided with rod and line and the merry party were ushered into the sitting room where they were soon "trying their luck."

The room was effectively decorated in blue and white. The center of the room was converted into a miniature fish pond banked with mosses, ferns and rocks. Tiny blue and white boats sailed the waters which were stocked with blue fish. Over all was the dim light of candles giving the effect of moonlight.

Much merriment was provoked by the throwing of the lines, for each member of the finny tribe conveyed a true fish tale, announcing the marriage of Miss Mary Sloan to Dr. J. W. Farrior to take place November 29th, 1916.

A salad course was served, followed by the cream and cake which carried out the blue and white idea.

The house guests of the occasion were Mrs. W. B. Murphy, of Snow Hill, and Misses Edna and Frances Robinson, of Delta.

MISS ELIZABETH ROPER BRIDE OF MR. THOMAS W. JOHNSTON

Maimo, N. C., Oct. 16.—A beautiful home wedding was celebrated here this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roper when their attractive daughter, Miss Elizabeth Roper, became the bride of Mr. Thos. W. Johnstone, of Wilmington, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Herbert, of Florence, S. C.

The home was tastefully and prettily decorated, the general color scheme being green. There was in attendance a large number of relatives and friends including many from Wilmington.

As the bridal party entered the parlor, where the vows were said, Mrs. M. H. P. Clark, of Wilmington, skillfully rendered on the piano the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin. During the ceremony she played softly Wagner's "To An Evening Star," and Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used as the recessional.

The bride was given away by her father and her maid of honor was Miss Dorothy Johnstone, sister of the groom. The best man was Mr. T. B. Roper, brother of the bride.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of white silk with veil and bouquet. Her going away dress was a coat suit of golden brown. The maid of honor was attired in a gown of white and pink.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served for all the guests. The bride and groom left on the 4:30 train for Jacksonville, Fla., where they will spend their honeymoon. They will be at home in Wilmington after about ten days.

Mrs. Johnstone is a young woman of cahrming personality with a host of friends here and elsewhere. The groom is employed as an engineer on the Atlantic Coast Line and is a young man of sterling worth, highly esteemed by all who know him.

Pocketbook Stolen on Train.

Private J. F. Smith, of Bolton, who reached Wilmington last night from his home where he has been spending a few days, found upon arriving here that somebody had stolen his pocketbook containing a small sum of money while he was taking a nap on the train. He reported his loss to Lieut. Ed. H. Holmes, local recruiting officer, who called up Capt. George Gillette by long distance telephone and arrangements were made for him to rejoin his command, Engineer Company A.

SWORN IN AS SPECIAL OFFICER MAN NABS ALLEGED ASSAILANTS

Mr. J. H. Johnston Arrests Two of His Alleged Assailants Last Night.

Unable to give an accurate description of the two men who assaulted him at Greenfield two weeks ago, J. H. Johnston, custodian of Greenfield Park, was sworn in as a special officer and nabbed his alleged assailants on Front street, between Dock and Market, shortly before midnight last night.

The two men, who gave their names as Clyde Peterson and Fred Davis, are employed on one of the government dredges. The police hold a warrant for Peterson for assaulting Mr. J. J. Brown with a beer bottle on the night of August 5th.

The assault on Mr. Johnston was committed two weeks ago in front of his home in Greenfield Park. He, in company with his wife, had gone to a nearby spring to get a pitcher of water. Here one of three men who were at the spring, kicked Mr. Johnston's pet dog, and when he remonstrated with them they assaulted him, one of them cutting him in the back with a knife.

The police were unable to find any trace of the men at that time, and Mr. Johnston seemed unable to give an accurate description. He was positive however, that he would recognize them should he see them again, and for this reason he was sworn in as a special officer at his own request, so that in event of his meeting his assailants, he would be able to arrest them even if there were no officer present. He was sworn in on Saturday night.

Both Peterson and Davis are loud in their protestations of innocence.

ROUTE OF SHOW PARADE WAS CHANGED BY SHOW AUTHORITIES

Route as Published in Star Secured from Representative of Show.

The route of parade of the Buffalo Bill-101 Ranch Show, appearing in The Morning Star of yesterday, while incorrect, was presented in exactly the same order as given by the circus press agent Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Doud, the show's publicity man, states that this was the proposed route of the parade, and that it was given to The Star in good faith. He says that the city authorities refused to approve his permit to march in the proposed order, and that the change was made too late to correct the one given to The Star for publication.

While considerable confusion was caused by the changing of the route, nevertheless it was entirely unavoidable. Superintendent John J. Blair, of the city schools, stated yesterday morning that all of the school children of the city were able to view the big parade, although they were forced to walk a considerable distance from their proposed vantage places, on account of the 11th hour change.

ADVERTISING EXPERT ADDRESSES EMPLOYES OF THE BON MARCHE

Mr. Larry Altmayer Talks on Proper Methods of Salesmanship.

Mr. Larry Altmayer, representative of the Dry Good Economist, of New York, gave an instructive lecture to the employes of the Bon Marche, at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Altmayer, who is an advertising man of long experience, impressed upon his audience the necessity of making a study of their work as a profession in order to obtain the maximum results both for themselves and for their firm.

By means of a number of pictures, which he called "The Graphic Instructor," he illustrated the proper methods of dealing with a customer and making a sale. The patrons of a store, he said, are the life blood of the firm, and the more effort on the part of the employes in developing their firm's patronage will be rewarded by an increase in earnings, as their ability became more marked.

He will speak to the employes of the Belk-Williams Company at 8 o'clock this morning.

MAYOR MOORE TO SPEAK

At Agricultural and Industrial Exhibit Exercises Tonight.

Mayor P. Q. Moore, of Wilmington, will deliver the opening address tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the colored Y. M. C. A., 7th and Nun streets, in connection with the Agricultural and Industrial exhibits which will be on display there through Friday.

Rev. J. A. Bonner, of the Chestnut Street Presbyterian church, will speak tomorrow night, while Prof. C. Virgo, of the Williston Industrial School, will deliver the main address Thursday night. An attractive display of the work of the students in the various colored schools of the city and farms of the county will be on display.

SAYS WILSON HAS UNSHACKLED BUSINESS OF THE COUNTRY

Has Freed More Slaves Than Lincoln, Says Frank P. Walsh.

New York, Oct. 16.—Asserting that President Wilson had unshackled the business of the country from the domination of a few men and that he has freed more slaves than Lincoln, Frank P. Walsh, former chairman of the United States Commission on Industrial Relations, in a speech here tonight replied to Theodore Roosevelt's attack on the Adamson 8-hour law.

"The efforts of Theodore Roosevelt to align the workers of the country against the 8-hour law are being hailed with derision by the workers all over the United States," Mr. Walsh said.

MRS. REBECCA M'RAE HAIGH DEAD

Venerable Woman of Fayetteville Died Last Evening.

(Special Star Telegram).

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 16.—Mrs. Rebacco MacRae Haigh, widow of Dr. T. D. Haigh and one of the foremost and beloved women of Fayetteville, died at her home here at 7:30 o'clock tonight after a brief illness. She was taken ill only yesterday and her unlooked for death will be a shock to many friends, a kind and charitable heart had made in all walks of life.

Mrs. Haigh was in her 85th year. She was the daughter of the late Duncan G. MacRae. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Jane Pemberton, of this city, and seven children, Delagnel Haigh, of Summitt, N. J.; Douglas Haigh, and Mrs. Howard M. Cook, of Essex Falls, N. J.; Charles Haig, of Chicago; Mrs. Ed. Kyle, of Norfolk; Mrs. F. R. Rose and Miss Harriet Haigh, of Fayetteville.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The keel of the superdreadnaught California will be laid at the Mare Island navy yard, October 25, the Navy Department announced today. A previous announcement had fixed November 25 as the date.

WILSON FUND GROWS STEADILY

Number of Small Contributions and Subscriptions Yesterday—Show Divided Interest.

The general demoralization incident to "circus day" served to somewhat interfere with the team workers for the Woodrow Wilson fund yesterday, but a number of the chairmen made report last night of small contributions and plans are being laid for more effective work later in the week.

As the news from all the states becomes more and more favorable as the days go by, the people are beginning to become interested in the success of the Democratic nominee and later they are expected to show the measure of their interest by substantial contributions. Capt. Warren L. Jones is perhaps one of the most indefatigable workers and all up and down his travels during the day he never fails to pick up dollars for the peace and prosperity candidate. The list of contributions up to last night is as follows:

LOCAL DOTS.

—Capt. J. S. Williams has returned from a business trip to New York City.

—Col. Walker Taylor has returned from a short business trip to Philadelphia and other points North.

—Rev. J. S. Crowley will preach next Sunday at both morning and night at the Acme Presbyterian church. The morning service will be at 11 o'clock and the night service at 7:30 o'clock.

—Rev. W. G. Hall, pastor of the Southside Baptist church, left yesterday morning for Maple Hill, near Burgaw, where he will conduct a series of revival services for the Baptist church at that place.

—"Judge" G. W. Bornemann, of this city, has many souvenirs including letters from President Wilson and William Jennings Bryan but there is not one of them which he is more proud than the autograph post card he received yesterday when he called on (Buffalo Bill) Col. W. F. Cody.

—A meeting of the Federal court bar will be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the office of the deputy clerk, Mr. S. P. Collier, Sr., for the purpose of arranging the calendar for the approaching term of court which convenes in this city on Wednesday, November 8th. Notices were sent out yesterday to all lawyers having cases on the docket.

Goes With Huggins.

Mr. W. W. Whaley, of Lumberton, N. C., a very talented engraver and designer, has arrived in the city and this week will take a position with the old and well established jewelry firm of G. W. Huggins, on Market street. Mr. Whaley has had experience in some of the larger cities, is well equipped for his work and will receive a cordial welcome to Wilmington as a resident. He expects to be joined here later by Mrs. Whaley and their little daughter, who are now in the mountains.

MR. MORRISON HERE TONIGHT

Presidential Elector Will Address Voters of City and County at Court House This Evening at 8.

Hon. Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, Democratic elector-at-large, is expected to draw one of the largest gatherings of voters of the campaign when he speaks tonight at 8 o'clock at the county court house.

Mr. Morrison will be introduced by Thos. W. Davis, Esq. Mr. Morrison is a pleasant speaker with a convincing manner of making his points which commands the attention of his hearers. In addition to his natural eloquence his earnestness and logical method of presenting his ideas appeals not only to the hearts, but also to the intelligence of his audience. He is considered by many to be the greatest campaigner on the stump in North Carolina.

He has won great success in his chosen profession of the law, and it has already been hinted that it is not unlikely that he will be a candidate for Governor of the State four years hence.

Mr. Morrison's appearance on the stump here will, it is believed, awaken the voters of the county to a fuller appreciation of the fact that they have a very real interest in the outcome of the approaching election, and that they never before had the privilege of re-electing a President who so richly deserves the honor as does Woodrow Wilson.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Among the arrivals at The Orton yesterday were: F. N. Edens, J. N. Sanders, Holly Ridge; J. J. Elder, High Point; C. F. Honeycutt, Suffolk; J. F. Moreland, Warsaw; James Stearns, Councils; E. Garland Brown, Chadbourn; Jackson Greer, Whiteville.

MRS. HARBERS DEAD.

Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon at Residence of Daughter.

Mrs. Elise Harbers, widow of the late Mr. J. D. Harbers, of Charleston, S. C., died yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Wessell, No. 605 Chestnut street, following an extended illness.

Mrs. Harbers came to Wilmington recently in order to be with her two daughters who live here, although far from well when she arrived here, it was thought that there were grounds to hope that with their care and attention, she might recover.

Mrs. Harbers was a devoted member of the Lutheran church and a woman of many lovable traits of character. She is survived by one son, Mr. Henry Harbers, of Charleston, and two daughters, Mrs. Charles Wessell and Miss Annie Harbers, of this city.

Funeral services will be held from the residence at 4 o'clock, and from St. Paul's Lutheran church at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. The services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. F. B. Clausen. Interment will be made at Oakdale cemetery.

FUNERAL OF MR. SILVIA

Services Will be Held Here at Residence Today.

Funeral services for Mr. M. G. Silvia, who was killed in Charleston Saturday night in a street car accident, will be held here this morning at 11 o'clock at Bellevue ceretemy. Rev. J. S. Crowley will conduct the services.

The remains of the deceased were brought to Wilmington this morning on a train arriving from the South shortly after midnight.

and a mule was one of the most ridiculous stunts seen in Wilmington in a long time.

The after show also produced its share of merriment and incidentally introduced Hans and Gretna Snyder, two of the smallest dancers in the world.

The big audiences that attended the performances were typical American crowds, curious, restless and expectant. The good order observed and the lack of anything that tended towards misbehavior was a notable feature of the crowds.

Valier's Dainty Flour requires less lard.

Good because it tastes good.

Quality in flour means more than just baking quality. The most important result that you get from the extra fine quality of Valier's Dainty Flour is the extra fine flavor of your baking.

Valier's Dainty Flour is made of finest flavored wheat; milled by a special slow process, which saves all of the fine flavor; then sifted through silk to make its texture extra fine. It is quality flour and gives quality results in baking. Have your grocer send you Valier's Dainty next time you need flour.

SECRETARY M'ADOO IS COMING TO N. CAROLINA

To Take Part in Land Bank Hearing at Raleigh, Oct. 24.

O. Max Gardner Addresses Big Crowd at "First Voters" Rally in Raleigh—Big Guns for Wilson Day Celebration.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 16.—Frank R. Wilson, chief of the division of information of the Federal Farm Loan Bureau, has written the Raleigh chamber of commerce that Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and a party of investigators will be in Raleigh October 24th to give a hearing to all North Carolina interests in the matter of the location of a Federal Farm Loan bank in this region. The letter reads:

"This hearing is for the purpose of getting information as to the farm loan needs of the farmers of North Carolina. It is desirable that as many representative farmers be brought to this meeting as possible. It is also important that all the cities of your State be given an opportunity to be heard in the matter of these Federal Loan banks."

The letter adds that this trip is especially to determine upon the boundaries for the 12 Federal Loan Bank districts.

Hon. O. Max Gardner, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, addressed the Wake County First Voters' Democratic club tonight, and along with this goodly company of young men a throng of citizens including great numbers of ladies, in the city auditorium. His speech was especially a representation of the difference in what the Democratic and the Republican parties stand for and the overwhelming necessity there is for young men to take their stand on the side of Democracy.

Large numbers of the fair students from St. Mary's school, Meredith College and Peace Institute occupied seats in the dress circle. Incidentally Mr. Gardner declared his conviction that the right of franchise for women was just and that it is just ahead in the progress of statecraft.

A big torch-light parade was a strikingly successful preliminary feature of the address by Mr. Gardner. Not only the aggregation of "first voters" but great numbers of older Democrats, including numbers who had participated in "first voter" demonstrations in past campaigns, took part.

Mr. Gardner's speech and the attendant demonstrations were a brilliant success.

Democratic State Chairman Thomas D. Warren announces that, for the great Woodrow Wilson Day celebration in North Carolina October 28th, numbers of the most prominent Democratic leaders are being assigned to various central points and that there will be speakers in practically every county for that day. Senator Simmons is to speak in Charlotte on that day and Hon. T. W. Bickett is to be in Newton to address the Catawba county Democracy.

EUGENE McDONALD IMPROVING.

However, Young Raleigh Business Man is Not Out of Danger.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 16.—Eugene McDonald, the popular young business man who, in a fit of depression seriously shot himself Saturday morning, is considerably improved and the attending physicians believe that he will recover. However, he is not out of danger by any means. The bullet, fired with suicidal intent, and which barely missed the apex of the heart, has not been located, being thought to have passed into the fleshy part of the back. A wide circle of friends of the young man are deeply concerned at his rash act, which all are confident was committed during a temporary lapse of mental responsibility.

BRITISH AND ITALIAN WARSHIPS COLLIDE IN FOG

Ships Shell Each Other and One is Badly Damaged, Says Report.

Berlin, Oct. 16, (via wireless).—"A British and an Italian warship, in consequence of a fog, collided in the Messina channel (between the mainland of Italy and the island of Sicily), Amsterdam reports," says an item given out by the Overseas News Agency. "The ships shelled each other and one was damaged heavily. A British armored cruiser was towed to Naples. Details are yet unavailable."

Everyone Should Drink Glass Of Water To Clean Kidneys

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with cold water and kidneco, which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any druggist about one dozen 5 grain kidneco tablets, take one tablet before each meal and at bedtime with a glass of water, for a few days, and your kidneys will act fine. This famous remedy is made from perfectly harmless ingredients, and acts quickly and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Kidneco is inexpensive, cannot injure. Make no mistake, insist on kidneco, which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

ROBBERY IN ROCKY MOUNT

Two Negroes Hold Up Aged White Man and Take His Money.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Rocky Mount, N. C., Oct. 16.—One of the most daring attempts at highway robbery which was carried to a successful end and in which George E. Odom, aged 60 years, was given a most trying ordeal and robbed of $8.90, culminated yesterday in the arrest of Oscar Melvin, a young negro, who has confessed his guilt. The robbery occurred Saturday when two young negroes, one of whom was Oscar Melvin, lured Mr. Odom, who is an employe of the Rocky Mount Mills and a resident of north Rocky Mount, to a point near the Southern Cotton Oil Mills on a promise of a division of some liquor. It was when a solitary point was reached that the negroes seized upon the white and demanded his money and when he dissented one of the negroes made a slash at his throat with a declaration that he would leave him dead and take it. The aged white man, being overcome by brute strength, seeing that they would take his life, yielded up his money and he was finally let go.

The matter was several hours later reported to the police and yesterday Oscar Melvin was arrested after one of the liveliest chases in a half a dozen years and the negro in his attempt to escape had the bluecoat on a run over a mile in which the negro stole a bicycle and was finally captured behind a chimney under a negro house in another end of the city.

PRISONER FLEW THE COOP.

Negro Escapes from Officer in Mayor's Office at Clinton.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clinton, N. C., Oct. 16.—Speaking of birds "flying the coop," Chief of Police Tart, of the Clinton force, had an example of that on Friday. Raymond Boykin, a little slip of a black negro boy, was accused of stealing a ham, which he tried to sell at a very low price in one of the Clinton stores. He was arrested by Chief Tart and taken to the mayor's office. While the officer was waiting for the mayor he and his prisoner were standing near an open window—a second story window—and before the chief knew what was happening that little negro jumped to the window sill and down to the ground to safety. There was a good sized crowd in the mayor's office who hurried down the steps after the police officer and joined in the chase for the culprit. He was caught in a few minutes, Fire Chief Buck Crumpler, lawyer and fox hunter, was the first to nab the fleeing "coon" and restore him to the clutches of the law.

PRESIDENT E. J. WATSON ISSUES CALL FOR MEETING

Of Executive Committee of Association of Agricultural Secretaries.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 16.—E. J. Watson, of Columbia, president of the National Association of Commissioners of Agriculture, issued a call for the executive committee of the organization to meet at Washington, D. C., on the morning of October 23.

"For some months," said President Watson, in explaining the purpose of his call, "certain conditions have been developing in many of the states that are not making for the fullest development of the agricultural resources of the Nation and there has been an increasing demand that steps be taken to cure these conditions. It is probable that after discussing these matters fully at Washington, the members of the committee would proceed to Shadow Lawn to discuss them from the National standpoint with President Wilson.

Mr. Watson declined to say to what conditions his call referred.

JOVIANS IN INDIANAPOLIS.

Men in Electrical Business Hold National Convention This Week.

Indianapolis, Oct. 16.—Elaborate plans for the programme and entertainment of the members of the Jovian Order of the United States, composed of men in the electrical business, which meets here in annual convention October 17 to 20, inclusive, have been worked out and advance reports tonight indicate that between 3,000 and 3,500 men will attend.

The chief social event will occur on the last night of the convention, when the visitors will be entertained at an affair known as "A Night in Bohemia." Sixty vaudeville artists have been booked to assist in the entertainment and a band of 160 pieces will furnish the music. The electrical effects in the decorations have received especial attention.

The delegates tomorrow will be welcomed to Indianapolis by Mayor Bell. The response will be made by Henry W. Kiel, mayor of St. Louis.

OAK RIDGE NEWS NOTES

Institute is Crowded—Contribution to Library—Hike to Mountain.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Oak Ridge, N. C., Oct. 16.—Oak Ridge Institute is crowded with students. Fifteen entered during the past week, and others are to come. The enrollment is already larger than it was last fall, and there is talk of a new dormitory for next year to accommodate the increasing attendance. Almost every county in the State is represented. The school has a large and loyal body of alumni, and has in daily attendance the sons and grand-sons of former students. Some of the boys here are the fourth member of the same family to attend the sessions of the school successively.

Mr. J. E. Latham, of Greensboro, recently made a valuable contribution to the school library, and it is proposed by the alumni of the school to place here a library of considerable magnitude.

The students are taking a lively interest in baseball, basketball and tennis.

Quite a body of students, accompanied by Profs. D. L. Nance, C. H. Oliver and T. E. Whitaker, spent a day recently at the Pilot Mountain. This is an annual outing of the students and one of the most enjoyable.

AUDIENCE MOSTLY EMPTY SEATS

Republican Spell-Binder from Missouri Speaks at Rockingham.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Hamlet, N. C., Oct. 16.—At Rockingham at the court house on Saturday afternoon a speech was made on behalf of the Republican National ticket by Rev. Dr. Blair, whose business when not otherwise engaged is that of a Methodist minister, and whose home is in Missouri. The few Republicans present were seated within the bar, which was about as crowded as is the "amen corner" of a fashionable city church. On the side usually reserved for negroes at court were a number of negroes, who possibly came to hear the Republican speaker in remembrance of the time when the negroes voted in Richmond county, and when Republicans were in office, including negro school commissioners. There were a number of Democrats out also, to hear what kind of excuse a Republican spell-binder can make for changing the present administration. The speaker made a very fluent speech but one which did not arouse his Republican friends to enthusiasm, and converted no Democrats to his cause.

ISADOR COHN DEAD.

Goldsboro Man Expires Soon After Suffering Stroke of Paralysis.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 16.—Isadore Cohn died a short while following a stroke of paralysis he suffered this afternoon. He is survived by his wife and one son, Leo, a jeweler of Nashville, and two daughters, Misses Byrdie and Helene, of this city.

Mr. Cohn, who was a well known and popular traveling salesman, employed by a local wholesale house, suffered a severe stroke of paralysis this afternoon while standing in the store of a local business house.

Resinol Surely Heals Sick Skins

When you know physicians have prescribed Resinol for over 20 years in the treatment of eczema and other itching, burning unsightly skin eruptions, and have written thousands of reports saying: "It is my regular prescription for itching," "Resinol has produced brilliant results," "The result it gave was marvelous in one of the worst cases of eczema," etc., etc., doesn't it make you feel, "This is the treatment I can rely on for MY skin-trouble?"

When Resinol Ointment touches itching skins, the itching usually stops and healing begins. With the aid of Resinol Soap, it almost always clears away eczema, ringworm, pimples, or other distressing eruption quickly, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Sold by all druggists.

Use Resinol Soap regularly and you will be astonished to find how quickly it soothes and cleanses the pores, and leaves the complexion clear and fresh.

KINKY HAIR

"Atlanta, Ga. Exelento Med. Co. Gentlemen. My picture shows you what your Exelento Quinine Pomade has done for my hair. Before I used it, my hair was short and coarse, and now it is 36 inches long, and as soft and silky that I can do it up any way I want to. JANIE BAIRD."

Don't let some fake Kink Remover fool you. You really can't straighten your hair until it's nice and long. That's what EXELENTO QUININE POMADE does, removes Dandruff, feeds the Roots of the hair, and makes it grow long, soft and silky. After using a few times you can tell the difference, and after a little while it will be so pretty and long that you can fix it up to suit you. If Exelento don't do as we claim, we will give your money back. 25c by mail on receipt of stamps or coin.

Once Again—

It is true that the public has learned to expect great things of the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company.

We have never been content to merely trudge behind the rank and file. The Paige Company has been a creative force in the automobile industry—as a long line of "unusual" motor cars very eloquently testifies.

And, this year, Paige cars are no exception to the rule. We have again accomplished the "impossible"—again Paige acts as pacemaker in automobile progress.

Ours has been an enviable record, but without hesitation, we affirm that the New Series Paige Fairfield "Six-46" represents the greatest achievement in our history as motor car builders.

We have always planned to build just a little bit better than any competitor in our field, but the New Fairfield has surpassed even our rosiest hopes.

It is the most amazing accomplishment of a company that has always produced amazing motor car values.

We make this statement in absolute sincerity and with full realization of our responsibility. Any man who is familiar with Paige history will realize that no greater tribute could be paid to any car.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell.

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

Fortunes in Fur Coats

by Hester Winthrop

Nothing Excels the Mink Coat in Elegance — when the Mink is of Rich Quality

Lane

Seal Coat with Raccoon Used as Trimming

Coat of Seal with Thirty Yards of Skunk Trimming

Blue Fox One of the Costliest Trimming Furs Used on this Dashing Moleskin Coat

Sport Coat of Bright Hued Leopard in Ripple Cut with Trimming of Black Fox

$18,000 the Price of One Fur Wrap Just Arrived From Paris -- Wraps of Seal and of Ermine Lavishly Trimmed With Pelts Whose Price is Beyond Compare -- New Furs Grow More Dashing in Line.

SUPPOSE someone offered you the choice of almost twenty thousand dollars, or a fur coat worth that convincing figure—which would you select? The average woman, it is quite safe to say, would choose the very tidy fortune with its agreeable yearly income for the rest of her life; and if a fur coat were absolutely necessary to her happiness, spend a part of the first yearly income in a perfectly satisfying sealskin at perhaps three hundred dollars. And be it understood, one can have a sealskin for less—quite considerably less if one's taste is not fashionably hypercritical.

Cheaper Furs Frowned On By Fashion.

It is only the rich peltry that Fashion smiles upon. Wolf, bear, squirrel, fox of the fields, otter, muskrat are under her ban for luxurious garments, yet a decade ago these easily obtainable furs were worn by the best dressed women. Now one must have rare furs, rose or silver fox of the forest, natural mink, Russian or German fitch, chinchilla, kolinsky, ermine, lynx, Canadian beaver and the like. All these furs are expensive; some of them because they come from far countries; others because the animals are especially difficult to trap; still others, like ermine and chinchilla, because the skins are so tiny many dozens must be matched together to make a single garment. Skunk, a really commonplace skin, has been lifted to the expensive class because Fashion has created such a demand for it that pelts bring a pretty profit to the trapper.

Select Good Furs—It Pays In The End.

A fur expert can pick up a collection of assorted skins and tell you exactly the region where the animal was trapped; and can give a fairly close estimate of their value, in the skin as they are and in the garment as they will be. Furs with the same name vary greatly in price; much depends on the richness of the hair and the depth of color in the pelt. For example, a natural black fox skin is worth several thousand dollars while a "black fox muff" may be picked up in any department store for twelve or fifteen dollars—the muff made of course of an inferior fox of the field skin dyed black. Labrador mink is extremely costly; Arizona mink is one-fifth cheaper in value. Chinchilla from South America is almost prohibitive in price, chinchilla from Australia, called Australian chinchilla, but really only opossum, is of moderate cost. Hudson seal is an exclusive, high priced fur; French dyed seal, in other words muskrat is almost plebeian. So it goes.

Style value is the first thing a woman usually looks at in a fur garment. If the lines are right and the fur trimming has that softly luxurious effect so becoming and desirable, woman is ready to be easily deceived about the value of skins. That is the one thing to be particular about—if one is paying out a deal of money for furs. Smart lines can be achieved with the scissors, rich coloring by use of dyes; but a fine, supple, beautifully dressed skin of perfect quality is of utmost importance. Neglect to be critical about this point and you will very possibly be annoyed before the winter is out by sudden unsightly rips here and there in your fur coat; by a wearing down of the fur along edges of collar and sleeve, by a lack of lustre and dullness in the coat that should be always sleek, glossy and rich in texture.

And don't forget that furs must be occasionally "revived." They become just as dust-filled as woolen garments do, yet when are they ever treated to a wiskbroom? They hang in steam-heated rooms week in and week out save for a few hour's airing each day. Once in so often they should be sent to a cold storage plant to be thoroughly chilled and cleaned. If they are good furs they will come home looking like new, live and rich and glossy in texture.

All Smart Fur Coats Are Fur Trimmed.

Fashion now pronounces that the elegantly simple and plain seal coat, with only seal buttons to trim it, is distinguished enough, truly, but hopelessly middle-aged in suggestion. A fur coat, to possess a particle of youthful dash must be trimmed with contrasting pelt. This may be skunk, raccoon, beaver, fox, lynx or anything else one pleases—the more costly the better. Two very handsome seal coats are pictured; one trimmed with raccoon, the other with skunk; and on this latter coat which even a thousand dollars will not buy, are actually thirty yards of wide skunk banding. Very little of the rich Hudson seal shows, but its fine softness and beauty of texture makes possible the extreme ripple effect of the garment.

Raccoon is a favorite trimming for seal coats, and coats of caracul or broadtail. Seal coats are trimmed effectively also with skunk, with beaver, with rose fox and with lynx. Ermine is not as fashionable as a trimming on seal coats as it was; though it is used very smartly on sealskin wraps and scarves for dressy wear.

One of the most beautiful coats of the season, a very exclusive model from a fashionable New York furrier, is pictured in the model of moleskin with trimming bands of blue fox. The contrast between the luxurious fox border trimming and the lithe, fitted lines of the coat is strikingly smart. These close-fitting coats following the curve of the figure encased in feather-boned bodice and girdle are the ultra style for winter. There are plenty of good looking loose coats and some very smart ones in ripple effect, but they have not the dash of the fitted coats—like this model of mole and silvery blue fox of the forest. A fitted style is shown also in the broadtail coat with trimming band and cape of mink. Broadtail and mink was a combination beloved of the elderly matron a few years ago, but now even the debutante is disporting it. The mink cape does add wonderful style, one must confess, though a fur cape over a fur coat seems rather piling on the agony, for the moderate New York climate. Even more costly than broadtail and mink, is mink used alone—in quantity enough to make a whole winter coat, rippled in cut and with edge falling to the buttoned walking boot. Superb indeed is the mink garment pictured—and worth a small fortune, simple as it is with its graceful lines and broad collar and cuff of matched skins. Such a coat is distinguished enough for evening wear at the Horse Show; or it may be donned with perfect propriety for a motor trip across-country. It covers up the frock completely and will be invaluable as a limousine coat for wear over afternoon frocks of simple or formal nature.

One more coat is pictured—a very picturesque little sport or skating coat of warm colored leopard skin with trimming of black fox—natural black fox and natural leopard, so this fur sport coat maintains its position as a fit companion of the other costly models on today's page.

Fall Corsets Show Curved Lines

THERE is a new line in the corset, a decidedly curved line which gives the feminine figure a more rounded suggestion than the straight up and down model of the past decade. But the curved line is neither at front or back; it comes at the sides. From a front or back view, the waistline curves inward between bust and hip, but viewed from the side the effect is rather straight and flat, with a slightly higher and trimmer contour at the bust. This "nipped in" effect at the sides is accomplished by a new cut and by the insertion of gussets above the waistline at back and front of the corset; and while the new models are an inch or two higher at the top, they are certainly an inch or two—or even more—shorter at the hip. This makes the new corset seem very supple and comfortable; one is surprised to find how untrammeled are one's movements. One may sit in a low chair, or even on the floor; or pick up one's handkerchief or scissors while seated without the least discomfort.

Over these daintily feminine corsets with their rounded bust and hip lines and smaller waistline, the new pinafore and Moyenage frocks fall in loose but slightly clinging lines; and the effect is more graceful than if the straight Moyenage frock were worn over a straight up and down corset. The point upon which every woman should insist, however, is a perfectly straight line at the back. A back that curves outward below the waist is always matronly and middle aged in suggestion, for the young girl has always a very flat back. Even at the expense of pronounced curves at hip and bust, keep a flat, youthful back, if you would wear the youthful Moyenage frocks with success.

And though there is a decided tendency toward higher busted corsets, adhere with determination to a moderately low-busted model and wear over it a well fitted brassiere sufficiently reinforced with featherboning to give neat, trim lines at the bust.

Elbow Sleeves Are Coming In So The Forearm Must Receive Its Share Of Attention.

Getting Winter Bridge Hands Ready

NO matter how daintily shod is one's foot, it is hidden under the bridge table. No matter how beautifully burnished and dressed one's hair, the attention of one's partner is not on it. But the hands that hover over the cards, that flip them into a re-shuffled oblong, that toss them into surely dealt piles, that gather them up and assort them, that draw them in and make them into neatly overlapping "tricks"—the hands are omnipresent, persistently obvious. If they are beautiful, their beauty will be unescapeable; if they are ugly, or ill-groomed or awkward, cruel indeed will be the bridge table test.

There is one feature of beauty that almost any woman may count for her own; and that is a charming hand. Some hands are charming without the least trouble to their possessors—nature made them so, but almost any hand—unless marred by some actual deformity, or entirely spoiled by coarse manual labor, may be cultivated to the point of charm and loveliness. But a good deal more is needed to make the average hand lovely than refraining from hard work and a visit to the manicure on the morning of a card party. A beautiful hand means a hand that is white—but also firm; soft—but also slender and shapely; with a smooth, satiny surface not marred by protruding veins; with fingers that are flexible, never talon-like and stiff. Have you never noticed how one woman picks up and puts down her cards with crooked, firm fingers, unpleasantly suggestive of a predatory bird and strongly indicative of a fixed intention to win, while another woman's flexible fingers touch the cards like flower petals, drawing them toward her with finger tips only as though winning or losing were a matter of complete indifference?

In thinking about hands—their smoothness and whiteness, women overlook the possibilities of fingertips, save where the purely physical characteristic of good manicuring is concerned. The movements of the fingers, the way they are held, the way they grasp things, the way they gesture are the very index of the spirit and the personality to which they belong. Watch the fingers of a very young girl before she has learned to intrench her spirit behind a mask of guardedness. Her fingers are so flexible and so supple; they do not cling together, or curl themselves into a fist (the individual who is trying to deceive you or mislead you almost invariably closes his hand into a fist trust and faith are always pictured by open hands with flexed fingers). And the fingers of youth respond to every motion of the hand, curve with it, bend with it, droop with it. Watch the hand of youth and profit thereby if you would not have your own hand grow old and sophisticated in suggestion.

And keep the hand in as perfect a condition as you can every hour of the week—not occasionally when the day of the bridge club comes around. Anybody may buy stunning clothes or cultivate the grand manner, but an invariably well kept hand is the sign manual of innate aristocracy, the index of the true lady, no matter how shabby may be the dress or the surroundings. If you have household tasks to perform this dainty perfection of the hands means a good deal of effort. The hands must be washed many times during the day and unless the drying process is carefully performed each time chapping and roughening of the skin will surely result. See that the water in which they are washed is neither too cold—or worse still, too hot, and if it is hard water soften it with a pinch of borax. Use only a pure soap and almond meal and each time you wash your hands use the nail brush. This habit which soon becomes an unconscious one, keeps the nails in good condition and makes the use of orange stick or nail-file less imperative. Cultivate also, when drying the hands, carefully, thoroughly, the habit of pushing down the cuticle around the nails as the towel is used on each fingertip in turn. Once a week at least; better still, twice a week, have the nails manicured by a good professional. If you do this work for yourself, see that the fingers are held long enough in the warm water to soften nails and cuticle, give plenty of time and utmost attention to trimming and filing. Apply the rosy polish and buffer painstakingly. Never hurry the process—give at least as much time to it as you would pay fifty cents for at the manicurist's.

If there is the slightest hint of roughness or redness in the hands, sleep in loose gloves, spreading cold cream well over the hands and fingers before the gloves are donned. In the morning dash the hands in cold water first, to close the relaxed pores and dry them briskly. Then proceed with your morning toilet in the usual way.

An Adroit Whisk Of Talcum Will Make The Hands Seem Whiter Than Nature Intended.

Hands kept in a muff and exposed to the air only indoors, in winter are apt to grow yellowish in color. The summer air, sun, and wind bleaches the skin, though alas tan speedily follows if one is not careful; but in winter the hands must be bleached occasionally with some special preparation, to keep them milk white. Lemon juice is a wonderful whitener, and sliced lemon should always be kept on the washstand. Here is a whitening paste that has been tried with excellent results. Beat together into a soft paste, 2 drams of oil of sweet almond; one dram of glycerine, 1 dram of rice flour, 1 ounce of rose water and 36 drops of tincture of benzoin. Beat separately the yolk of a raw egg and stir into the paste, beating well. Use immediately, spreading well over the hands and draw on loose gloves from which the fingertips have been clipped. If the arms are not as white as one could wish, apply the paste to them also and bind soft cloths around the arm.

With the elbows bent and the arms lifted to the level of the shoulders, shake the hands as they hang limply from the wrists. Do this several times a day when you think of it. The exercise tends to whiten the hands and it also gives them more of that flexibleness and responsiveness of youth that we were speaking of a bit back. If your are to play bridge by artificial light it will be a harmless vanity to rub a little, a very little cold cream into the hands, wipe it off thoroughly and then dust the hands with talcum. This will make them look whiter and fairer. But beware of powdering the hands for a card game in broad daylight!

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MAY COTTON AT 18 CENTS

All Other Deliveries Make New High Records—General List 25 to 30 Points Higher.

New York, Oct. 16.—The cotton market showed renewed strength and activity today, May selling at the 18-cent level and all deliveries making new high records for the season. May closed at 17.93 with the general list closing very steady at a net advance of 25 to 30 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 13 points and very quickly sold 16 to 18 points above Saturday's close. Relatively firm cables and a bullish English spot market helped the advance. Slight reactions were followed by renewed strength with January selling up to 17.71 before the end of the morning. Offerings then increased and there was another setback of 5 or 6 points, but the market developed renewed strength in the late trading with December selling up to 17.87; January to 17.82 and March to 17.90; or 25 to 32 points net higher. The close was within a point or two of the best.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Market Holds Strong Undertone Throughout the Session.

New Orleans, Oct. 16.—Cotton held a strong undertone throughout the session here today. Heavy buying was in evidence and at all times offerings were readily absorbed, even in the face of realizing.

The market opened at the advance, stood at the advance all day and closed at a net advance of 24 to 26 points. New high levels for the season were made toward the close when the most active months were 27 to 28 points up. October touched 17 cents in the actual trading and closed at 17.06 bid. May sold up to 17.84.

The steadiness on the opening was due partly to the good Liverpool and partly to rains. Later, the demand increased by the forecast of more rain and prospects of frosts in portions of Oklahoma and Texas. Uncertainty over the West Indian hurricane's course caused much buying as it was feared there was a possibility of it hitting the cotton region.

Higher spot quotation over the belt generally and reports of a strong demand for the actual cotton were said to be responsible for heavy buying by large interests. Locally spot quotations advanced 10 points to 17c for middling.

Closing bid: October 17.06; December 17.32; January 17.43; March 17.63; May 17.82.

Spot cotton steady 19 up. Sales on the spot, 2,485; to arrive 1,084. Middling 17.00.

WHEAT SOMEWHAT HIGHER

Liberal Increase of United States Visible Supply Total However Causes a Reaction.

Chicago, October 16. — Bullish foreign conditions including a decided falling off in world shipments made wheat prices range higher today, although a liberal increase of the United States visible supply total brought about something of a reaction late in the day. The close was unsettled at ⅛ to ¾c. net advance, with December and May both 1.57¾. Corn finished ¼@⅜c. down and oats off ⅝ to ¾.

Provisions scored gains of 5 to 55.

CONFIDENT TONE IN STOCKS

Market Yesterday Characterized by Unusual Breadth—Several New Records Scored.

New York, Oct. 16.—The stock market today displayed a confident tone and was characterized by unusual breadth.

Prices opened at substantial opening gains in many leading issues, were forfeited in part during the mid-session, but in the final hour, the most active of the day, fresh buying under lead of United States Steel, Mercantile Marines, Coppers and equipments forced quotations to highest levels.

Several new records were scored, Norfolk & Western rising 2 3-8 to 147 1-8; General Motors 25 1-2 to 779 1-2, and Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies to 97.

The last hour supplied more than one-third of the day's transactions and Steel, which made an extreme gain of 4 7-8 points to 113, furnished about 20 per cent. Bethlehem Steel made a gross advance of 15, with 3 to 5 points in other industrials, equipments and munitions.

Mercantile Marine, preferred's net gain was 3 points, with 4 for Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies. International Paper led the minor specialties at an advance of 3 3-4, and Coppers, Zinc and Motors rose irregular but substantially.

All the coalers kept pace with Norfolk & Western, strength being most marked in Reading and Chesapeake & Ohio, at gains of 2 3-4 each. The Pacifics were higher by one to almost three points and secondary rails like Rock Island, Western Maryland, Kansas City Southern and Southern Railway participated to a like extent.

Bonds were strong. Total sales, par value, $5,370,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

Says a Glass of Hot Water Every Morning Before Breakfast Will Take Off Fat If You Get More Fresh Air

Be Moderate in Your Diet and Reduce Your Weight With Tasseo

Lack of fresh air weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off by increasing the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from any druggist a box of tasseo, take a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast, then take tasseo after each meal and at bedtime.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Tasseo is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and is designed to increase the oxygen-carrying power of the blood.

Even a few days' treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight. There is nothing better for obesity.

EDUCATIONAL FILMS IN MOVING PICTURES

Treasures of Art to be Given the Public Through the "Movies"

Advantages In Being the Homeliest Girl—Growth of a Dead Man's Fortune—Steel for Europe. Gotham Gossip.

New York, Oct. 16.—The "educational film" is becoming a big factor in the moving picture world. Among the producers it is spoken of as "high brow stuff", and the men who are making their fortunes out of the "movies" declare that the people who want to see 10 and 15 cent shows do not evidence any enthusiasm when the stories about shooting up towns, and the like, are omitted to give place to pictures of the growth of flowers, or the development of silk worms, and the like.

In great cities like New York there are moving picture houses that are showing spectacular productions that have never been equalled in the modern drama. Two dollars may sound rather high for a seat in a moving picture show, but that amount is frequently charged in New York. Even the less prominent productions of the big moving picture houses are produced at admissions varying from 25 cents to $1.

Educational films are not proving popular with the masses, and therefore they are not in the highest favor with the producers. Nevertheless, these films are compelling recognition, and are destined to grow in usefulness. During the epidemic of infantile paralysis, educational films were arranged, and they were a powerful factor in preventing the spread of the disease. The latest innovation of the film is found in the museums of art, and the current number of the "Bulletin of the Metropolitan Museum of Art" carries an article by George W. Stevens, director of the Toledo Museum of Art, in which he declares that "it will take no great imagination to forecast the growth of the educational film as soon as the vast number of schools and colleges, museums, libraries and the myriads of educational clubs and lyceum circuits are equipped to utilize them; and museums of art will be able to secure splendid material covering every department of museum work." Through the processes of the film, it is calculated that many of the great advantages of the movies may be brought directly home to the people of every part of the country.

The world is full or pretty girls, and there have been many spirited contests to decide who should get the prizes in many instances. An organization of printers recently took the other side of the problem, and started out by naming a "hard looks committee." Their purpose was to elect the homeliest girl in the universe. After awhile the contest was narrowed down to 12 very nice, but very homely girls. To show the good faith of the hard looks committee, it is noted that the winning contestant will receive a beautiful evening gown, provided of course, that she will lead the grand march, accompanied by a handsome printing supply salesman. As a further inducement, and as an additional solace to the young ladies to look their homeliest, the hope is held out to them that the winning of the prize will mean an opportunity to obtain work with a motion picture concern. The contest is so keen that warts and moles are being counted, and strange though it may seem, the rivalry to be declared homely is fraught with as much feeling as is usually found in beauty contests.

How a dead man doubled his fortune is shown by the history covering the estate of Herman Frasch, the noted chemist, who died two years ago. The estate, valued at the time of Frasch's death at around $5,000,000 is now worth more than $10,000,0000. Among the assets were 505 shares of stock in a sulphur company, which have risen to more than 120 times their original par value. Wound up in these advances in value is the story of how a tract of sulphur beds in Louisiana, deemed worthless, suddenly became of immense value, and competed successfully with the Sicilian sulphur mines that had previously monopolized the world's output.

Steel for Europe at tidewater ports has gripped the fancy of New York financiers who are trying to solve the problems of preparedness against strike interruption of shipments of the stupendous orders for structural steel and machinery required for reconstructing in the war zone when peace is declared. The use of the iron ores in Texas recently reported upon by engineers is said to be imperative, and negotiations are under way for the construction of steel plants at Texas City, the Gulf port where Texas ores will be treated and milled. With the remaining supply of capital in Europe said to be five billion dollars, and the reconstruction and replacement needs put at over $1,600,000,000, the magnitude of the demands upon steel production in the United States, already oversold for months in advance, is apparent. One estimate puts the total to be spent on industrial property replacement in Belgium and Northern France alone at $2,825,000,000. The Texas ore fields are said to be now in the hands of financial giants who have been waiting for the present state of the war to hurry the completion of huge plants for the treatment of the ore at present high prices. With a market in Texas alone for huge amounts of steel the world market situation is said to promise direct exports from its steel port and from Gulf ports great quantities of pig iron and manufactured steel direct to war ravished countries in Europe.

"Soap box orators" are in the zenith of their glory, and from the Battery to the Bronx they are nightly holding forth on the cross streets. The man with a grouch or remedy for reforming the world, no longer has the monopoly on this job. The strikes that have been taking place have brought a new flock of speakers to the street corner arena, who have been attempting to convert the public to their way of thinking. Added to these are the spellbinders connected with the Democratic or Republican campaigns. The campaign orators have raised the average somewhat, with the result that the public has become more tolerant and has shown greater interest than it has heretofore manifested in this class of public speaking. —LONGACRE.

PRESSURE FOR CONVOCATION OF AUSTRIAN PARLIAMENT GROWS

Ministry Said to be Opposed to Assembling of Full Parliament.

Berlin, Oct. 16, (via London).—The pressure in Austrian parliamentary circles for a resumption of the Reichsrath sessions is growing. It is reported that the ministry is not indisposed to permit a convocation of the delegates, but is still opposed to the assembling of the full parliament.

Engelbert Pernerstorfer, vice-president of the Austrian diet, in a contribution to the Berlin Tageblatt, declares that action in this form is illegal and unconstitutional, as mandates of declaration lapsed when parliament closed in March, 1914. Herr Pernerstorfer says that all parties in the house of deputies, except the German radicals, and all groups in the house of lords are united in demanding the convocation of parliament and the resumption of parliamentary life after a lapse of almost three years.

ROOSEVELT AND PERKINS AGAIN ENROLLED AS "PROGRESSIVES"

J. M. Parker Says Perkins Told Him so Saturday—Praises Wilson.

Schenectady, N. Y., Oct. 16.—John M. Parker, Progressive vice-presidential candidate, addressing an audience of Progressives here tonight, urged them to support President Wilson for re-election declarin that, while Hughes is an estimable man personally, "God alone knows who stands behind him in his campaign."

He scored Theodore Roosevelt and George W. Perkins for what he termed their betrayal of the Progressive party in the Chicago convention and declared Perkins told him in New York Saturday that both he and Roosevelt had just enrolled against as Progressives. He praised Wilson's legislative accomplishments as "truly progressive" and gave as the 1916 national slogan for Progressives "Let well enough alone."

PROPOSE TO REMOVE RAILWAY TIME TABLES FROM HOTELS.

American Association of Passenger Traffic Officials Meets.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Proposals to remove railway time tables from hotels and other public places and to make ticket offices the only centers of distribution will be discussed by the American Association of Passenger Traffic Officers when it convenes here tomorrow for its annual meeting. The executive committee tonight decided to urge this step as a means of reducing waste.

Other subjects to be discussed include a proposed agreement among railways to remove their offices to low rent districts, a standardization of tickets and uniformity of baggage rules. The meeting will last three days.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR A NATION-WIDE CELEBRATION

Lutherans to Celebrate Quadri-Centennial of Reformation.

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—Plans for the Nation-wide celebration of the quadricentennial of the Protestant Reformation which will begin on October 29, 1916, and continue until October 31, 1917, were completed todayat a meeting of the joint national executive committee representing seven large official bodies of Lutherans. The conference was held at the National headquarters in this city.

During the year of celebration efforts will be made to raise a jubilee fund of $10,000,000 for education, missions and pensions for aged ministers of the Lutheran church.

SUFFERING FROM PROSPERITY

Not Enjoying It, Says Socialist Candidate for President.

Fresno, Cal., Oct. 16.—Allan L. Benson, Socialist candidate for president, spoke at the municipal auditorium here tonight and in discussing what he termed the "boasted prosperity" of the Nation, the nominee said:

"We are not enjoying prosperity but suffering from it. Mr. Wilson says the wealth of the country has increased by $41,000,000,000, but both Wilson and Hughes know that the workin class made that wealth and lost it. They can't make this an issue because both represen tthe class that got the wealth."

SAYS DEMOCRATS WILL ELECT 10 CONGRESSMEN

servative when I say we will elect ten Democratic congressmen and the entire State ticket.

"A number of Republican counties will go Democratic this year. Many people who voted the Republican ticket for years will vote for Woodrow Wilson next November. He has kept the country out of war and passed more constructive legislation through Congress than any previous administration. The Federal Reserve act has worked wonders and the Farm Loan bill, recently passed by Congress and which will become operative before the first of the year, will do more for the great farming interest than any legislation ever passed by the National Congress."

Mr. Murphy will return to Salisbury tonight and again enter the campaign. He expects to make at least one speech every day from now until the day before election.

Private advices received by Mr. Murphy indicates the re-election of President Wilson and an increased majority in both the Senate and the House.

P. R. A.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Heads of many of the country's leading colleges and universities will confer with War Department officials here tomorrow on methods of providing military legislation for students who wish to train for the junior officers' reserve corps authorized under the Army Reorganization act.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 16.—The heaviest snow storm of any autumn in the last ten years prevails in this section of the copper country today. At noon two inches had fallen. Lake Superior shipping was forced to seek shelter.

side bookkeepers" was recommended in the report of the joint committee on business of the church.

Defects in Fiscal System.

At present because of the overlapping fiscal years of different churches and dioceses and because of other defects of system, the commission says, no one can tell within many millions of dollars what the church received or expended during the last calendar year. A uniform fiscal year was suggested.

A report of a joint commission recommending the permissive use of a new hymn in the service was adopted by the house of deputies. In submitting the report, Robert C. Pruyn, of Albany, N. Y., asserted that it was necessary in the interest of conciseness to cut the number of hymns from the 679, contained in the old hymnal, to 550. The Rev. C. B. Bryan, of Petersburg, Va., urged the elimination of two hymns in the new hymnal on theological grounds, but the motion was tabled.

Final adjournment of the convention, which has been in session since last Wednesday, was set for Friday, October 27.

REVISION AND SHORTENING OF FIVE COMMANDMENTS PROPOSED

St. Louis, Oct. 16. — Revision and shortening of five of the Ten Commandments as they appear in the Book of Common Prayer and the elimination of Good Friday prayer which classes Jew with "Turks, infidels and heretics", were proposed in the report of the joint commission on the Book of Common Prayer submitted to the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church today.

The commission, consisting of seven bishops, seven clergymen and seven laymen, under the chairmanship of Rt. Rev. Courtlandt Whitehead, bishop of Pittsburg, was appointed by the 1913 convention of the church to revise and enrich the book of common prayer, adapting it to modern conditions.

It was proposed to eliminate portions of the first five commandments on the ground that the arguments for the observance of Divine Law in the Ten Commandments may actually be understood in the laws themselves, and also to shorten and make more impressive the church service. Further, it was held that the reasons, which applied in Israel do not necessarily apply today. The revised version of the five commandments as proposed follows:

Prayer book 2—1. Thou shalt have no other Gods but me.

2. Thou shalt not make unto thyself any graven image, nor the likeness of anything that is in the heaven above, the earth beneath, or in the waters under the earth; Tou shalt not bow down to them nor worship them.

3. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord, thy God, in vain.

4. Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath Day.

5. Honor thy father and thy mother.

The commission's report recommended that the present Good Friday prayer: "Have mercy upon all Jews, Turks, infidels and heretics," be revised to read, "Have mercy upon all who know Thee not, as revealed in the Gospel of Thy Son," thus eliminating a classification which to many has been objectionable.
